endeavoring to find ways of reducing the cost of construction. Some of the shipbuilders, the message continues, are meeting this situation "in a commendable way" and are in Washington in consultation endeavoring to find further means of reducing construction.

The steel company's reply, signed by E. G. Grace, president, reads in part:

"It is our disposition always to do our part, and to meet you in this direct appeal we will be willing to make a reduction of 10 per cent in the prices already quoted. This to apply alike for one, two, three or four ships.

"We estimate if other interests meet you in the same spirit that you can effect the desired saving. We trust the Navy department will recognize the position we are taking in this instance and reflect same in future relations."

The cost of material necessary to build a $16,500,000 cruiser is about $10,000,000, it was asserted, but all this material would not be supplied by the Bethlehem, if it received the contracts.

RUTHERFORD SUCCEEDS LATE PASTOR RUSSELL

Chosen Head of the Religious Sect
Founded on Teachings of Deceased Founder.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 6.—Joseph F. Rutherford of New York was to-day unanimously chosen here to succeed the late Pastor Russell as president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract society. A. J. Ritchie of Ontario, Can., was re-elected vice president, and W. E. Van Amburgh of New York, secretary-treasurer.

The annual meeting of the organization was held in Carnegie hall, on the North side, this afternoon. This was the first annual meeting of this religious corporation since the death of Pastor Russell, who was its president from organization in 1854 until his death two months ago. Great interest was manifested in the result by many thousands throughout the world.

WAR'S RESULT TO BE TOPIC AT SESSION

That the present order of things is coming to an end with the termination of the world-war is the belief of Judge J. F. Rutherford, who arrived in Oakland last night to attend the convention of the International Bible Students' Association, of which he is president.

Judge Rutherford stated this morning that something better is coming after the war, and what that something is he will explain at his public lecture on "A New World at the End of the Old" to be given at the municipal auditorium tomorrow afternoon. This lecture has aroused a great deal of interest wherever it has been given and it is expected that several thousand persons will be in attendance.

The present convention is one of a series which started in Boston August 1, and which has moved westward, stopping at Aurora, Illinois, and Tacoma, Washington. Next week the convention and delegates will be in Los Angeles, terminating the present trip. All the delegates travel at their own expense, special trains being provided for the purpose. Several hundreds have attended all the conventions held this year, which are held particularly for the intensive study of the Scriptures.

SUCCEEDS RUSSELL.
Judge Rutherford succeeded Pastor Russell to the presidency of the association, after the founder's death last winter. The judge has been intimately connected with the work for the last ten years, having devoted both his time and his money to the propagation of the association's work. No salaries are paid to any members of the association, and no collections are taken up. The work is conducted solely by voluntary contribution.

According to Judge Rutherford, the circulation of the association's publications is greater than that of any other books with the exception of the Bible. Last year more than 50,000,000 copies of one magazine were distributed free.

This afternoon Judge Rutherford addressed the convention on the subject, "The Harvest Truly is Plentiful." The last of four parts of the mammoth photo-illustrated creation will be given in the auditorium this evening.

IMMERSION PLANNED.
Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock the baptismal service followed by water immersion will be held at Piedmont Baths. The convention will come to a close at 7 p. m. with the love feast, and the delegates will prepare to leave for Los Angeles.

Judge Rutherford said the Bible Students' Convention was different than many other conventions of like nature in that it took no money out of the town. No collections of any kind have been taken up during the stay of the convention here.

SOUVENIR OF ANCIENT OAK FOR HEESEMAN

Charles J. Heese, who retired as a member of the board of park directors July 1, is the proud possessor of the first relic to be shaped from the old oak tree that stood in the city hall plaza until the first of this year, when it came to a natural death and was removed to make way for young "Quercus."

A silver-mounted gavel, suitably engraved, was presented to Heese by members of the park board at a banquet held in his honor last night at Hotel Oakland. Those present were President Walter Cole, Dr. S. H. Buteau and Dr. L. F. Herriek, directors of the park board, and Lee S. Kerfoot, superintendent of the playgrounds.

REPORT AT CAMP

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Scores of men reporting for training today at the second reserve officers' training camp which opens at the Presidio Monday found the routine of registering working with clock-like precision. Profiting by the experience of the first camp, army officers in charge are fully prepared to handle the 1600 men who will train at the second camp. Candidates will report today, tomorrow and Monday, and it is understood a few have been granted permission to report as late as the first week in September.

REED CAMP HEAD

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—Major Elvin C. Reed was today designated commander of the second of fliers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind. He was a senior instructor in the first camp. Major Reed was chosen after Colonel Glenn had recommended him because the latter had already been assigned to a post in the national army.

TO OPEN SESSION.

Woman Battles for Existence on 10 Cents a Day

While the high cost of living has been causing consternation among housewives, the discovery has been made that in a squalid basement abode in the midst of more affluent surroundings, Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, 67 years old, has been endeavoring to eke out existence on ten cents a day. Neighbors who became acquainted with the situation and notified the police of the Northern station.

Patrolman William Halde-man, who was assigned to the investigation, went to the aged woman's address, 960 Fifty-third street. His report, which will be referred to the Associated Charities, recites that his "survey of the conditions of the place she calls home" brought to light that the aged woman is dependent upon charity and that she "drags out a weary existence amidst the squalor of the basement." He found, he says in an interview, that Mrs. Clark is allowed $6 a month by the charitable organization, with wood and coal. Of the allowance $3 goes for rent, leaving $3 for sustenance.

LEADERS MARKED BY VIGILANTES

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 25.—Warnings similar to the one found on the body of Frank Little, murdered I. W. W. leader, have been sent to R. F. Dunne, leader in the Metal Trades Council strike movement, and Joe Shannon and Tom Campbell, prominent in the Metal Mine Workers' Union.

The labor leaders today appealed to the police for protection. The warnings, which were sent through the mails to the men at Finlander Hall, union headquarters, were written in the same hand as the warning found on Little's body. They carry the initials D. C. S., standing, it is believed, for Dunne, Campbell and Shannon.

The warnings bear the vigilante numerals, 3-7-77, which were also found on Little's body. Posted on them is a large hand with a finger pointing at the word "YOU." The hand was cut from Liberty bond advertising posters.

Dunne and several other strike leaders have been made deputy sheriffs and given permission to carry a gun. They have a bodyguard all the time and the places where they sleep are kept a secret. The three men said today they did not fear the warnings and would not lessen their activities.

ENEMY ALIENS CAUSE STRIKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Employment of enemy aliens on government work in shipyards at the port of New York is one of the chief grievances the thousands of striking mechanics have against their employers, it was alleged by J. J. McIntee, business agent of the International Association of Machinists. He declared the strike would be long unless the government intervened.

"All that we ask," McIntee said, "is that the government remain neutral in regard to its labor contracts. We do not want to have employed on government jobs men whose loyalty and fealty to the United States is a matter of question."

S. P. IS MENACED

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Aug. 25.—Two attempts were made last night, it was learned here, to damage the Southern Pacific tunnel at Wolf Creek, nineteen miles from here. The first attempt was frustrated by guardsmen who fired forty-five shots at a gang of men prowling in the brush near the tunnel. The men returned the fire, but no soldiers were hit. After the fight, which lasted fifteen minutes, the prowlers disappeared in the woods. An hour later four men appeared in an automobile near the tunnel, but when challenged by soldier guards put off at full speed.

SLAYS FAMILY

IDABEL, Okla., Aug. 25.—The bodies of Ward Briton, a farmer of Ringold, thirty-five miles northwest of here; his wife, infant son and cousin, George Hughes, were found in the Briton home by neighbors. Idabel officers who investigated reported that apparently Briton had killed himself after shooting the other three. It is believed he was temporarily insane.

RANCHER IS HURT

ONTARIO, Aug. 25.—"Devil's dance floor," so named because of frequent fatal accidents due to the slippery surface, of the highway—killed another victim today in the person of W. A. Moore, well-to-do rancher, who was fatally hurt when a car skidded into his ranch wagon. Moore was knocked from his seat and the automobile passed over his body.

PALO ALTO CAMP ORDER MUST STAND

The War Department will not modify its decision to transfer the Forty-first division national guard troops from Palo Alto to Charlotte, N. C. Representative Kahn of California sent a telegram to Major James Rolph of San Francisco today to that effect after a conference with Major General Scott, chief of staff and other army officials.

However, if a water-borne sewer system can be built at Camp Fremont for $80,000, as California business men say it can be, the army department will not abandon the $400,000 camp, sending it at some future date, probably by winter time, another division of troops. The Forty-first division, originally destined to train at Fremont, has been ordered to a cantonment at Charlotte, N. C. Secretary Baker refusing to countermand his order, made immediately upon receipt of injunction threats from officials of the California State Board of Health.

Officers at Camp Fremont look for a troop movement about September 1. Records sent down from the Presidio and to be installed in Major General Liggett's headquarters, are being packed up again and will be shipped back to San Francisco along with army clerks and an office force. Officers of the medical and hospital corps say they have received orders which indicate an empty Camp Fremont for some time to come. Men sent here to man the big base hospital, capable of holding 1500 patients, are getting ready to move, again.

DELAY WOULD BE FATAL TO WAR PLANS

John S. Dunnigan, clerk to the board of supervisors, San Francisco, is on his way to Washington to tell the army men that a modern water-borne sewer system may be built for the additional expenditure of $18,000, making it possible to eliminate the business men's health and safety Washington army officials battle.

Late reports from Washington indicate that Camp Fremont will be in use for troops by the time that cold weather sets in. These troops will, all probability, be transferred from American Lake, Wash., number 10,000, to the new division stationed there.

Representative Kahn has sent to Major Rolph of San Francisco, one of the leaders in the telegram battle to save Camp Fremont, a message would regard it fatal to its plans to have four weeks' delay entailed in putting a proper sewerage system into Palo Alto camp. It is regarded here that this may indicate the government's wish to have Fremont ready immediately for service and that the long wait for winter and cold weather may not follow. Western estimates place the construction time at two weeks.

That the recreation commission at Camp Fremont will not abandon plans is the statement issued today by James R. Williams, war representative of training camp activities. Williams believes that a large body of soldiers will be at the local cantonment within a short time and is continuing plans for a large recreation center at the San Francisco creek park, near the camp. Williams is looking for a permanent office headquarters.

PROMISES MADE TO BOARD; NOTHING DONE

Representative Kahn, Senator Phelan and Acting Secretary of Interior Alexander Vogelsang, a former San Franciscan, join in bawling someone's blunder and the consequent danger to Camp Fremont. De George Elbright, head of the State Board of Health, and who has been accused of bringing about the present trouble through his orders against the latrine during his following letter to Governor Stephens explaining his side of the controversy:

"The real trouble came further back. Dunnigan, clerk of the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, had been promising the army everything in the way of sewerage systems and water supply systems. 'Captain Fleischhauer informs me that in spite of everything he could do nothing materialized from Dunnigan's promises. Dunnigan represents a committee of business men of San Francisco. Two weeks ago I called his attention to the fact that it was urgently necessary that his committee and San Francisco should do something to get the matter straightened out or the Board of Health would have to join the military authorities if it came to a showdown. I was informed by him that he thought the military authorities could take care of themselves and he continued to do nothing but promise anything he saw fit to Captain Fleischhauer. I was finally informed Friday by Colonel Little that the order of August 3 provided for complete sewerage system. I immediately interviewed Captain Fleischhauer, who informed me that orders of August 3 received by him provided for the construction of a sewerage system large enough to take care of everything, but that only the connection should be made for water for baths and kitchens and specifically stated that pit latrines should be constructed. I then sent a telegram to Colonel I. W. Little reading as follows:

"Instructions August 3 expressly provide for use of latrines at Camp Fremont. Unless orders are received by officer in charge of construction

Bootlegging Into Oregon by Pullman Employee Charged

Pullman Car Company officials here are investigating charges, made in Oregon, that their train employees have been doing a thriving bootlegging business for some time. According to news from Portland, D. E. Stevens, Pullman car conductor under arrest in the northern city for alleged bootlegging, is said to have confessed. He is alleged to have made the claim that almost every employee of the corporation, working on the trains between Oakland Pier and Portland, is guilty of bootlegging.

According to word from the north, state, city and county officials are preparing to war on what is termed a serious situation. Other arrests, in addition to that of Stevens, lend credibility to the claim made by northern officials that the traffic is wide-spread and its organization extensive.

CLUB TO HOLD FLAG-RAISING

Patriotic exercises will accompany a flag raising ceremony tomorrow afternoon, when members of the Steinway Terrace and Boulevard Park Improvement Club dedicate a new flagpole at Forty-first avenue and Merz street. Prominent men of Oakland and nearby cities have been invited to witness the ceremony.

The program includes opening remarks by W. E. Rowlands, president of the club, who introduces Edwin W. Woodward as chairman of the day. Patriotic pieces by the Fremont High School band will precede a poem written and read by Fred Emerson Brooks. The Lawrence Brothers Quartet follows, after which the raising of the flag will occur. Mrs. Lucile Hartsook and Miss Gertrude Martin will raise the flag, while the band renders the national anthem.

Professor H. D. Bracefield, principal of Fremont High School, will give a patriotic address, following which Miss Barbara Miller is scheduled to render a vocal solo. Emile Cordinal will give a tenor solo. The audience will cheer the exercises with a rendition of "America."

OUTING PLANNED

Two hundred Native Daughters of the Golden West from Bahia Vista parlor, Oakland, will hold a family outing at Pinehurst tomorrow, for which all arrangements have been completed by a committee composed of Miss Louise McDougall, chairman; Miss Eva Pine and Miss Evelyn Johansson. Dancing, prize races and other attractions have been arranged for.

PLAN MEMORIAL

Memorial service will be held at the Salvation Army Hall, 537 Ninth street, Oakland, Sunday, August 26, at 8 p. m. for Major Tanner, the late matron of the Army Bulah Home for Girls in Oakland, who died Wednesday, August 22d. The major was a successful officer of the army for over thirty years. She had been stationed at the Oakland home for the past nine years.

at Camp Fremont within twenty-four hours dispose of use of latrines and construct acceptable sewer I will order injunction proceeding.

BELIEVED COST WOULD REACH $500,000.
That Secretary Baker believed the new sewer system would cost $500,000 is indicated in a statement issued by Senator Phelan yesterday. Senator Phelan has been working hard for California's retention of the cantonment. The message from the Senator is in part as follows:

"I found Secretary of War Baker very reasonable in his discussion of the affairs of Camp Fremont. The facts are that the quartermaster-general and chief of staff reported to the secretary that the State Board of Health, on August 17, threatened to enjoin the army from the use of Camp Fremont unless a water-borne drainage system was installed, which was estimated to cost $500,000 and which would take from one to two months to construct. The secretary had no criticism whatever to make of the State Board of Health, but said it would be poor economy to expend that amount in completing Camp Fremont when the department had a vacant camp at Charlotte, N. C. By sending the Forty-first division to Charlotte, the department would save a month or more awaiting the completion of Camp Fremont, and in any event the department had no intention of keeping the Forty-first division in California for a longer period than six weeks. So he approved the recommendation of the quartermaster to close the camp just as it was."

HARBOR WORK FUNDS SHORT, KEITH HOLDS

Despite the probable addition of $45,000 to the harbor funds by release of the cash bond in the appeal of the Merritt waterfront suits, the city will fall short $62,567 in the amount necessary to fulfill its contract obligations on harbor improvements this year, according to W. W. Keith, former harbor manager, who resigned last July.

Including the budget allowance of $4,962 with the probable net cash receipts over the waterfront, the total amount available for necessary work is estimated at $38,295, said by Keith to be wholly inadequate for what will be demanded.

It was this construction of the situation which caused Commissioner Morse to oppose the budget in its adoption by the council. He protested that he was not allowed a sufficient sum to carry on the work of the department.

PART OF BONDS.
The $45,000 put up as bond money in the suits was a remnant of bond money voted by the people years ago to start harbor development and it can only be used for restricted purposes. The city is under obligation to do dredging work in the Key Route Basin adjacent to the Albers plant, and to maintain certain property. New sheds and repairs are considered necessary at this time in addition to the acquisition of dredging pipe.

The budget allowance this year was based upon an estimated revenue of $96,000 from the waterfront leases and tolls and wharfeage. Keith points out that the figures are misleading for the reason that that amount will actually be available. He cites that the other two-thirds must be refunded to companies operating on the leases to reimburse them for improvement money by them and which are chargeable to the city under their contracts.

As an example of the situation confronting the city, Keith recites the following: "For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, the total earnings from dockage, tolls, wharfeage and rentals amounted to $104,976.89. Of this amount $40,076.95 was paid back to the Sunset Lumber Company, Howard Company and Albers Milling Company on account of construction in accordance with the terms of their leases. $25,219.44 represents charges accrued against numerous shipping concerns for use of shipping facilities of the Southern Pacific Company, the

New Eruption of Lassen Is a Violent Shock

REDDING, Aug. 25.—A violent eruption of Mount Lassen, California's volcano, which began at 5 o'clock yesterday, was reported today by campers arriving here. The eruption was not visible here because of the pall of forest fire smoke hanging over this vicinity.

The campers, who were eight miles from the crater, heard a rumble and roar and the earth quivered. A column of smoke shot far above the atmospheric cloud which hung over the crater.

This is the 144th eruption of the volcano during the last three years, according to count kept by observers here.

Western Pacific and the E. K. Wood Lumber Company leaving a balance of $39,681.45 as the actual cash receipts or about 26 percent of the total accruals.

REVENUE FIGURES.

"Providing the tonnage passing through the port of Oakland keeps pace with last year, which is doubtful due to abnormal conditions brought about by the war, the total port revenue would again reach $100,000 in round figures. Apply a more liberal percentage, say 30 percent, or even one-third of the total as actual cash receipts, $33,333 coupled with the budget allowance of $4,962, would make the total allowance for harbor improvement for the fiscal year, $38,295 or $62,667 short of enough to cover the budget provisions."

"Last year there was apportioned out of the tax levy $73,250.90 and further allowance of $50,000 to be derived from port revenue or a total of $123,250.90."

TREASON CHARGED

LEWISTON, Ida., Aug. 25.—Victor J. McCone, Socialist party secretary, Oregon, is under arrest here today charged with treason. McCone was taken into custody by Captain W. F. Morse, commanding federal troops here, after it had been charged he came here from Portland to cause discord in labor circles and to work against the selective draft law.

NEW POLICE HEAD WILL 'HARMONIZE'

Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman, who will assume the duties of his new position on September 1, plans to put forth his best efforts to harmonize the workings of the department which has been in a state of internal upheaval for many months during the bickering of the council over the question of who should be chief. With the unanimous endorsement of Sergeant Nedderman to head the department, the council, it appears, is ready to work together to back up the new chief in any policies that may be determined upon.

Whether or not there will be any radical changes in the hitherto policy of the administration as carried out by retiring chief Walter J. Peterson, has not been announced. For his part Chief Nedderman has expressed a desire to bring about such harmonious conditions as will reflect the highest efficiency and with credit to the city.

"I am ready and willing to assume the responsibilities entrusted to me by the council as head of the police department," said Chief Nedderman. "My appointment came unexpectedly to me although I had consented to become a candidate for appointment following the resignation of Chief Peterson. I did not particularly want the job but when it was offered I accepted."

"As to the future policy of the department I am not prepared at this time to make any statement. This will be determined later. However, my first order will be to have the department to the city that we all can work for the best interests of Oakland."

Between now and the first of the month Chief-elect Nedderman will put in his time at the city hall getting in touch with the inner affairs of the office. He will be under the supervision of Senior Captain J. F. Lynch, whom he has worked for many years and, until recently, at the northern station. Captain Lynch has been in chief since August 1 when Captain Peterson went to Arcadia in connection with the Battery E.

Probable transfer of officers and patrolmen may include Captain C. Bock who is now at the Central station, and changes in the inspection department. Present active inspectors, four in number, Frank McGee, John Gannaw, William Smith and Frank Rosick may be put back on the street and their places in the staff per office filled with other patrolmen if this is considered necessary.

STUDENTS OF BIBLE HOLD "IMMERSION"

The picturesque sight of sixty members in bathing suits undergoing the solemn rite of Water Immersion will be witnessed by several hundred members of the International Bible Students Association at Piedmont Baths this morning. The water immersion, signifying the washing away of sin and the birth into a new life is optional with members of the association, and this morning's baptism will be the largest ever held at one time on the Pacific Coast.

Today is the concluding day of the convention in Oakland, most of the delegates leaving tomorrow to attend the last of the conference in Los Angeles. The main purpose of the convention is that members of the association may come together for purposes of intensive Bible study.

The feature of the convention will be the address this afternoon by Judge J. P. Rutherford, "Are We at the End of the World?" This lecture is free to the public and will be held in the Municipal Auditorium.

LECTURE CRITICIZED.

This address has aroused considerable criticism wherever it has been given, and in Tacoma, where Judge Rutherford spoke last week, the most prominent minister in the town jumped upon the platform and called the judge a liar.

An enterprising newspaper man, who happened to be near the stage, managed to obtain a fine photograph of the minister shaking his fist in the judge's face.

In the belief of Judge Rutherford the present world is on the verge of an end with the termination of the world war, and the establishment of a new order of things which will be "Christ's Kingdom upon earth." The judge has been accused of being against the government because he asserts that the bond issue will never be paid.

WHAT DIFFERENCE?

"But what difference will that make in a world where money has no significance?" the judge exclaimed. "If a new order of things is to come, a few million more or less makes no difference whether they are paid or not."

Judge Rutherford has spoken in every city of consequence in the United States and Canada, and has made several tours to Europe, Australia, and South Africa. The convention ends at 7 o'clock this evening with a Love-feast.

REWARD McGRATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Edward McGrath, former superintendent of mails in San Francisco, who was suspended two years ago and subsequently reinstated as chief clerk, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the railway mail service in the New England division. McGrath's selection for this important post came as a reward for his services in improving the railway mail service in many smaller stations. A number of innovations were introduced by him which caused increased speed in the transportation of the mails.

The will of the decedent leaves the major portion of the property to Mrs. Dorn.

HAIR ON FACE DISAPPEARS QUICKLY

This method of removing superfluous hair is totally different from pastes and rub-on preparations, which merely remove hair from the surface of the skin, just like a razor.

The only common sense way to remove hair is to attack it under the skin. DeMiracle, the original sanitary liquid, operates on this principle. It alone contains certain ingredients which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. It does this by absorption.

DeMiracle works equally well for removing hair from face, neck, arms, legs, or anywhere. It prevents it from showing through stockings.

Insist on the genuine DeMiracle. It is the only depilatory that has a money-back guarantee in each package. In 60c, $1 and $2 bottles at all toilet counters, or direct from us in plain wrapper on receipt of price.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis court or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a lake trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson, more persistent than the most vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercurized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercurized wax at your drugist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered exfolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, 1/2 pint. This is not only a valuable skin agent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.—Advertisement.

A Voice From the Trenches German Defeat Only War Cure

By G. David Stelling.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—He wore three chevrons above the elbow and two little perpendicular stripes of gold braid, and on his face the look of a man who has seen death. He sat in the tube lift at Charing Cross and prevailed on him to come and share a war lunch with me at my club.

It was our third meeting since the war broke out. The first was in August of 1914, when he announced he had been accepted in the ranks of a famous battalion of the London regiment. The second time was in a rat-infested, German-baited dug-out near Lez, in the final 1918. Our meeting and greeting was a hurried one for various reasons, of which the Boches' seven-to-one superiority of shell power was not the least.

So we met again in a tube lift. He was on leave and I, being a "crack" was engaged in a fairly comfortable job at Battalion depot. I felt apologetic and humble before this veteran of the trenches. I had known him well in the days before national life was a struggle and when he used to write articles for a weekly journal, which lived mainly on its unfaith. It didn't believe in patriotism and it didn't believe in religion and it didn't believe in humanity, except for the humanity, of course. If it had a motto that motto was "Whatever is, is wrong." My friend, who was young, enthusiastic, sincere and rebellious against the inequities of the social system, was one of the most brilliant contributors to the columns of this journal. The realities of the barbarian invasion of Belgium sobered him and he was among the first to enlist in another battalion of the London regiment at the same time, but the fortunes of war took him to France eight months earlier than me.

III. BY SNIPER.

My old impression of the map rushed back to my mind as we walked together along Whitehall. What, I wondered, had become of all his early shibboleths? I asked him about himself. A sniper's bullet through the thigh had brought him back as far as an inland base hospital for a fortnight, and a bomb splinter in the face had caused a longer sojourn at Boulogne four months later.

"Except for three months in hospital and at base camps I have been two and a quarter years in the field," he told me as we walked along.

"And how many times have you been home on leave?" I asked.

"This is my second time home," he said. "It's good to be here, isn't it?"

"Aren't you getting about fed-up with things out there?" I put the question tentatively. "I was only out about six months myself, so can't justly say I'm fed-up. But I feel like a man who has had two years of it at first hand."

"Fed up, good heavens, no! I wouldn't have missed it for worlds. Don't misunderstand me, I hate war. I hate it with all my heart and soul, and all the bloody horror that war brings with it. God, I've had my fill—mangled horses, mangled men, the gasping agony of the gassed, the cries of the gradually dying, the blinding of the eyes, the heat of battle. But for all that, I wouldn't change places with the men who have stayed at home. For one thing it's the men you live with. You get down to earth. You're living the primitive sort of simple life we lead in the trenches. And all the pleasant good that centuries of Christianity and the English tradition have instilled into our national character, that we have never accepted a compromise. I love my men too much to get separated from them in the way that you people are, near as you get to the front. Our mode of life is in its way an epitome of ideal democracy. It's all for all and none for himself. Two things make it possible. We're all working for one end; and we're living under a rigid discipline which we accept cheerfully because we realize how absolutely essential it is."

I smiled. "You were very nearly an anarchist once," I said.

"LEARN'S A LOT."

"That was before I had any experience of life," he replied. "I may have been almost an academic anarchist in those faraway days before I knew anything. But I have learned a lot since then. Anarchy might be possible to a race of intellectuals without the human emotions. But human beings want some sort of rule. Otherwise they don't progress; they follow the line of least resistance. That is one of the two big lessons that war has taught me."

"And what is the other?"

"I used to be a pacifist," he said, "was against armaments and military preparations and all that. I know now that the pacifists of the old days were dreamers in a world of stark realities. Force respects only superior force. We were blind to that, we sentimentalists of the peace era. Now I have learned different. I am fighting for the world's peace and the idea at the back of every man I have ever met in the trenches."

"Yes," I demurred, "but they'd be only too glad to be done with it and get back to their homes and live peacefully."

"Of course they would, if they could feel that they'd finished the job they set out to do. But they haven't done that yet."

"The British Tommy is a general rule, a reserved and inarticulate person, not given to subtleties of opinion. But he's quite clear on this point—and I've had plenty of opportunities for ascertaining his views. He joined the army mostly of his own free will, because he was a conscientious man, a principle to which he was vaguely, subconsciously attached were being outraged. He saw a power that, as he might have expressed it, was 'hitting below the belt.' And that is why he has never been confirmed in his views of Germany. 'Belgium' was only an earnest of the manner in which the Hun carries on war. Tommy isn't a plaster saint by any means, but he does not see the value of his being a saint, the atrocities that have made the name of Germany stink in the nostrils of every right-thinking man. So in his own quiet way he subscribes entirely to the declaration that 'the sword shall be drawn' until the principles for which we entered the war have been established. And he knows that the only way to establish those principles is to beat the German in the field."

LAD FIGHTS BULL

CHARDON, O., Aug. 25.—It's a long way to Barcelona, Spain, but it means nothing to fourteen-year-old Herbert Hosmer.

Herbert sought to feed a bull a nice ripe apple. The bull raged. Quick as a flash Herbert grasped the bell ring of the infuriated bovine and succeeded in landing squarely on its back. Roaring and snorting, the bull raced about the lot. It stopped suddenly and Herbert was projected through the air for a spell and then landed hard. It looked like it was all over with Herbert, but the lad fought gamely. When the bull charged he rammed his little hands into the animal's nostrils and gripped tight. The bull sank to its knees and Herbert took a chance and raced for the fence, made it, and vaulted lightly over to safety. Herbert breathlessly told the story of the fight to his father.

The elder Hosmer seized a shotgun and killed the bull.

'PREX'SPEAKS U. C. CO-EDS NEAR REVOLT

Rebellion is seething in the hearts of the co-eds of the University of California, it is said. Since the death of Benjamin Ide Wheeler gave his fatherly talk to the women students—that talk of which no official report has been made and the boiling point has been reached. Whenever a group of co-eds gathers anywhere on the campus, spluttering is the word that most accurately describes their manner of conversation. There is even talk of a mass meeting of the women students for the formal expression of the resentment aroused by "Prex" in his address.

It is said that Dr. Wheeler gave advice on silver matters ranging from cinema performances to the care of gardens. He warned his auditors to keep off the sacrosanct ivy that surrounds the executive mansion; he added knitting as a fourth "do" for the German womanly virtues—Küche, Kirche and Kinder; he spoke with almost Methodist severity of dancing; he deprecated slang; he was dignified and unimpassioned.

The result has been a series of all-day follow-up when December administrators May, when Sixty-three gives advice to Eighteen. There is a tossing of heads on the campus and a general inclination to proceed at once to do all the things that "Prex" disapproves of just to "show him."

If you hear more along than usual among your co-ed acquaintances and a greater tendency to clip word endings and make abbreviations, you may know that it is a reaction to this remark of the eminent Greek scholar who guides the destinies of the University.

"I wish that slang might be omitted from college life. It is a shock to hear a young woman of apparent good breeding and attractive appearance talking about the 'Daily Cal' and the 'gym.'"

If you see queues of co-eds blocks long waiting in front of moving picture theaters, the cause may not be unrelated to this dictum:

"College is no place where young people are to be amused. That there are many who feel that such is the case is manifest by the nightly pilgrimages to the movies. I hope to see these curtailed this year."

If you should see a young woman in an evening gown descend from a limousine in front of the Doe Library and proceed to wait up for the German womanly virtues of the temple of learning, don't hastily judge her to be temporarily demented. She would merely be a rebel against these sentiments:

"Motor cars must be left outside the gates. They are not needed on the campus."

"I hope to see the last of sororities and fraternities soon."

"I'm growing around the president's house to be respected; it is not to be trampled upon."

"That so many of you have taken to knitting is evidence that there is a serious strain in some college young people. It is merely a symbol, however, and I hope it may be turned into something more useful and significant than something with which to adorn your backs."

There are some of the other surprising things that are reported from the presidential homily:

"I hope to see the last of sororities and fraternities soon."

Evil and Good to Follow War "End of World," Says Rutherford Revolt and Anarchy Benefits to Come Is Predicted by Rutherford After Conflict, Say Pastors

The present war is the forerunner of the end of the world was the statement made yesterday afternoon by Judge J. F. Rutherford, president of the Bible Students' Association, in the closing address of the convention at the municipal auditorium.

Judge Rutherford, who is considered one of the foremost Bible students in the world, advanced as proof of his statements prophetic utterances from the Bible. He pointed out that Jesus had predicted the war which would be followed by a revolution, and this revolution by a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation.

Jesus further said, continued Judge Rutherford, "that there would be famine and pestilence and it needs no philosopher to show that it is now threatening the nations of the earth."

BLAMES CLERGY FOR WAR.
The clergy as a class are the ones directly and indirectly responsible for the great world war, said Judge Rutherford. It was this statement that caused a minister in Tacoma last week to jump on the platform and call the judge a liar.

Judge Rutherford explained his statement by saying that the Lord had commissioned the clergy to preach the gospel of His kingdom, and that the clergy as a class, with few exceptions, have convinced the kings and rulers of the earth that these earthly governments and kingdoms constitute God's kingdom of peace, holiness, justice, love and truth, and that the earthly kings are ruling by divine right as God's representatives.

Instead of preaching the Lord Jesus and his kingdom, they have encouraged the nations in selfishness and urged them on to war. For this cause the blood of all the nations of the earth is upon their heads, and God will require it at their hands.

PREDICTS REVOLT, ANARCHY.
The present war will end and within less than a year, prophecies the judge, but the armies will not be disbanded. The Bible clearly teaches that thereafter revolution will follow. Increased shortage of food, the high cost of living, with further taxation followed by famine and the spirit of discontent among the people of the earth will bring a condition of revolt and anarchy such as was never known.

We are at the death-bed of the world, said Judge Rutherford, in closing his address. "The systems of unrighteousness are dying. We are standing at the birth of a new and better order—we are at the portals of the golden age."

The war spirit which chastens, which preserves, which conserves for future peoples even though at a toll for itself and the races of today, which is based not upon militant aims but upon the ultimate conservation of human ideals, this formed the subject for discourses and sermons in most of the east bay pulpits yesterday. That the United States was more than justified in entering the great conflict and that out of the struggle would come ultimate good was the general trend of the talks.

"The first drop of American blood dropped in France will tell the listening world that we are our brother's keeper, and that we are not a sham nation as to the Christian ideal," declared Rev. Frank Salsley, speaking on the "First Civilized War" at the First Presbyterian Church.

"America's aim, even through the dreadful means of war," he declared, "is to instill the sublime and beautiful world. Conscience has been the commander-in-chief of every war America has fought. Yet terrible as this war is, America is justified in her entrance."

THIS WAR MOST BRUTAL.
"The first civilized war was between Cain and Abel. Cain was the first murderer. He wanted world domination and his 'place in the sun.' Some selfishness and ambition have played on one side or another or on both in all wars. Cain cold-bloodedly killed Abel. War, per se, in its nature, is just killing, and the present civilization is the most inhuman, barbarous and brutal in history. We shudder at the battle-axe and the knife of the savage. But the implements of the modern warfare. This is the day of horrors—submarine horrors, air-raid horrors, famine horrors."

That great social good will develop out of the present struggle, said Rev. Salsley, is the opinion of Rev. Albert W. Palmer of the Plymouth Congregational Church, who spoke on "Some Social By-products of the War." Rev. Mr. Palmer said:

"Some are bound to come out of this dreadful conflict of nations and no matter how much we must regret it we must look at it in this light. Of course, many advances that were registered in social work prior to the terrible war have been temporarily abandoned; but in their places we are performing a greater work."

Sermons at other east bay churches were of the same faith. First Methodist Episcopal, "The Redeemer's Complaint," First Congregational, "The Law and the Harvest," First Unitarian, "So Little Done, So Much to Do."

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Littlejohn, widow of the late Captain George W. Littlejohn, who will be buried in Redwood City tomorrow, recalls one of the famous mysteries of the sea of a score of years ago, when the schooners Otter and Helen Blum sailed away into the depths of the Arctic sea with sixty men aboard and never were heard of again.

Captain Littlejohn was commander of the Otter on that fatal trip and Captain Henry Harrison was master of the Helen Blum. But though the wives and families of both, and relatives of the crews of thirty men each, which the two schooners carried, watched and waited as only those who follow the sea are able, through long, weary months that grew into years, there has never been a message or a clew from the frozen North that swallowed them up.

The two schooners left port on a hunt for otter and seals. The two mariners had heard of valuable catches in the Arctic circle, with its long twilight and bitter cold, and they entered the service of a hardy crew. There were plenty of supplies aboard—enough to last for two years—and they sailed bravely out through the Golden Gate for the loof of the Northland waters. Edward Littlejohn, eldest of Captain Littlejohn's sons, who had always been on previous trips with his father, decided he would ship to a southern port and see more of the world. This action saved his life.

Mrs. Littlejohn will be buried in the Union cemetery at Redwood City. She is survived by three sons—Edward and George Littlejohn, who live in Redwood City; Charles Littlejohn, who is manager of the Interisland Navigation Company of Honolulu; and a married daughter, Mrs. Annie D. Gilbert of Oakland.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Littlejohn, widow of the late Captain George W. Littlejohn, who will be buried in Redwood City tomorrow, recalls one of the famous mysteries of the sea of a score of years ago, when the schooners Otter and Helen Blum sailed away into the depths of the Arctic sea with sixty men aboard and never were heard of again.

Captain Littlejohn was commander of the Otter on that fatal trip and Captain Henry Harrison was master of the Helen Blum. But though the wives and families of both, and relatives of the crews of thirty men each, which the two schooners carried, watched and waited as only those who follow the sea are able, through long, weary months that grew into years, there has never been a message or a clew from the frozen North that swallowed them up.

The two schooners left port on a hunt for otter and seals. The two mariners had heard of valuable catches in the Arctic circle, with its long twilight and bitter cold, and they entered the service of a hardy crew. There were plenty of supplies aboard—enough to last for two years—and they sailed bravely out through the Golden Gate for the loof of the Northland waters. Edward Littlejohn, eldest of Captain Littlejohn's sons, who had always been on previous trips with his father, decided he would ship to a southern port and see more of the world. This action saved his life.

Mrs. Littlejohn will be buried in the Union cemetery at Redwood City. She is survived by three sons—Edward and George Littlejohn, who live in Redwood City; Charles Littlejohn, who is manager of the Interisland Navigation Company of Honolulu; and a married daughter, Mrs. Annie D. Gilbert of Oakland.

BURGLARIES MAY BE WORK OF NEW GANG

Numerous burglaries committed during the last twenty-four hours in different parts of the city have led to unusual activity on the part of the police in efforts to trace the source of what they believe to be a new gang of thieves.

C. F. Hilton of 1629 Eighty-sixth avenue reported that his home was looted of $300 worth of jewelry by porch climbers, who entered through a bathroom window on the second floor.

C. J. Seeman of 736 Lakeshore avenue complains that a quantity of jewelry, value not given, was removed from his home by someone who pried open a window.

Edward A. Howard of 107 Kempton avenue is out $4.50 in coin and considerable jewelry, according to his report, while W. B. Fargoe, 354 Sixty-second street, says that a window on his premises was jimmied and a gold watch stolen.

Thieves who entered the Union Street Presbyterian Church some time prior to last night's services, carried away the silver communion set and a typewriter from the study of Pastor P. S. Payne. Inspectors Gallagher and Robinson investigated, but as yet have failed to identify the thieves were found.

GARDEN PARTY IS LEAGUE PLAN

Alameda County Chapter, woman's section, of the Navy League, is arranging for a garden party on the afternoon of Saturday, September 15, at the Fruitvale gardens of Mrs. Henry Hetherbee. This is the first large function which has been arranged by the patriotic organization, which stands for preparedness. Five hundred prominent women are associated with the local branch. They are emphasizing the point that although they are affiliated with the Navy League, which has been engaged in a national controversy, their organization does not form a part of the men's body.

Instructors in knitting are each day in the headquarters in Capwell's roof garden, where the wool which is used for the sailor lads may be obtained. More than 200 workers are engaged in knitting the four-piece sets, which later will be sent to the crew of the mosquito ship which the Alameda county section will adopt. Mrs. Fred Cummings is chairman of the comforts section, which is in charge of this phase of the work.

The officers are: Regent, Mrs. Lee Richmond Smith; vice-regent, Mrs. Charles E. Miller; recording secretary, Mrs. Grace Alexander Gray; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. H. Hetherbee; treasurer, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain.

Mrs. A. J. Snyder has been named chairman of the committee on United States service comfort bags, with Mrs. Raymond Perkins as chairman of the committee on books and magazines.

Mrs. John Perrine is directing the committee on ways and means. In Elmhurst there is an active unit of which Mrs. Lucy Barker is chairwoman. ## KILLING IN NORTH STIRS LOCAL TONGS

With the killing of a Chinese identified as Lee Bing, alleged head gunman for the Hop Sing tong on the Pacific Coast, in Seattle by two countrymen believed to be members of the Bing Kong Bow Leong tong, local authorities are taking precautions today to prevent another feud between the two organizations, which has been simmering for some time, from developing further hostilities.

Lee Bing is one of the most important men in the whole tong organization. He was wanted in the northern city by the authorities for murdering Charlie Ling, a rival tongman, on June 11, and is believed to have been responsible for numerous other murders along the coast. Bing was killed while walking along the street with a loaded revolver in his belt. Six shots were fired, one of them striking K. Suzuki, a Japanese, inflicting a slight wound in the neck. The assailants escaped.

The renewal of tong hostilities which is expected by the authorities all along the coast as a result of the killing of Bing will mark the end of a period of comparative peace obtained through the efforts of state and federal officials and the authorities of different cities where the tongs have been active.

PEACE PACT BROKEN.
More than three months ago, following a conference of all the tong heads, a peace pact was entered into which was expected to settle most of the feuds and disturbances. The pact came at the conclusion of a reign of terror during which more than twenty tongmen were murdered in various parts of the coast.

Police and federal officials express little hope of being able to effect a permanent peace for some time to come, however. The feud between the Hop Sing and the Bing Kongs is not a local affair, but traces its history to China, where the enmity of the two organizations first broke out. The enmity simmered in this country for many years with occasional killings of a private nature until about ten years ago when it broke out in full force in San Francisco.

DEADLY TOLL TAKEN.
At that time a Chinese slave girl, valued at $2000 was stolen from the head of one of the warring tongs and spirited away to parts unknown. She was never again to be seen. The losing tong took deadly toll of their opponents for the theft, and the war was on. Thereafter slave girls were abducted by both sides, the children of wealthy members of both tongs sold into slavery, and killings became numerous. The federal and police authorities finally wiped out the slave traffic to a great degree, but the target practice remained.

Other tongs including the Suey Ong, the Suey Sing, and several smaller organizations were also active in the war or another in the trouble. Despite the efforts of the Chinese Six Companies, the powerful mercantile organization, in pruning most of the wealthy Chinese merchants, the murders have continued.

The Stars and Stripes were floated for the first time from a new flagpole at the headquarters of the Steiny Terrace and Boulevard Park Improvement and Social Club at Forty-first avenue and Mera street yesterday afternoon, when with music and song and patriotic ceremony the members of the two newest improved flag-raising organizations participated in the flag-raising observance.

The flag-raising marked the formal dedication of the new headquarters of the joint clubs, whose membership comprises residents of Steiny Terrace, Boulevard Park and adjacent districts. The club headquarters will be used for civic and improvement club meetings and social neighborhood gatherings in which club members are interested.

The program commenced the following features: Address by W. E. Rowlands, president of the club; patriotic music by the Fremont High School band; reading of a patriotic poem by Fred Emerson Brooks; singing by Lawrence Brothers quartet; raising of the Stars and Stripes by Mrs. Lucille Hartsock and Miss Gertrude Martin; patriotic address by Professor H. D. Bracefield, principal of the Fremont High School; vocal solo by Miss Barbara Miller; tenor solo by Emma Cordinal; and the singing of "America," by the audience.

ALLIED BOMBERS MAKE HEAVY TOLL ON GERMAN CITY

Loss of Fifty Lives and Great
Property Damage Reported
From Coblenz.

Neutral Traveler Says Germans
Were Fearful American
Aviators Coming.

(Associated Press.)
LONDON, March 19.—Fifty persons were killed and great material damage was done by bombs dropped by allied aviators when they raided Coblenz, Germany, on March 15, according to a neutral traveler who arrived Sunday at The Hague, the Times says.

"The people believed the raiders were Americans," the traveler said. "I was in the neighborhood of a big munition works at Mulheim (north of Cologne) and also on the Rhine, and ten minutes past noon when suddenly all the factory whistles started blowing and the sirens were sounded. Many women rushed from the works for the bomb-proof shelters, while passing streets were stopped at the cross lights and into houses. Four or five airplanes were visible in the clear sky."

"Frequently someone exclaimed: 'They are Americans!' Another person screamed aloud: 'The Americans are coming.' A Dutchman I knew rushed up to me and said: 'Didn't I tell you the Americans would come sooner or later.'"

"I cannot say whether the machines actually were American but the striking thing was the evidence that there has been general skepticism whether American airplanes ever would come and equal fear of them when they do."

The neutral traveler added that although the machines merely passed over Mulheim on their way to Coblenz, it was not until 4 o'clock that the "all clear" signal was sounded.

Coblenz is the capital of the Rhine province of Prussia. On March 12 the British war office announced that British aviators had raided a town of bombs on factories, stations and barracks there. The attack was made in daylight and two fires and a violent explosion were seen to have been caused by the bombs.

Berlin always has been very nervous because of allied air raids over German territory, but if it really were killed at Coblenz, the result would be a number of serious losses that have been reported from Germany before.

Baker Sees 100 U. S. Fliers in French Aviation School Take to the Air for Special Maneuvers

ON BOARD SECRETARY BAKER'S SPECIAL TRAIN IN FRANCE, March 19.—Newman U. S. Baker, the American secretary of war, is making important decisions in France upon such questions as in his judgment require immediate action.

Thus in the headquarters of one of the American aviation centers, Secretary Baker looked off all of the host of aviators sent first from America were first to complete their training in France and if all of them had been commissioned. The chief of the aviation told the secretary that all of them had not yet, because of reasons which he explained, had a chance to take their final training.

The secretary directed at the conclusion of the inquiry, with General Pershing's approval, that aviators so delayed should be given commissions, when they were ready for them, dated a day ahead of those issued in America to men who had entered the service later, because these men had a right to their priority.

(Associated Press.)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Monday, March 18.—American artillery on the Toul front today bombarded towns with the enemy's lines. On several occasions considerable number of gas shells were hurled at German trenches. Bomb shells hit in the town of Essey and others in Mont Sec.

An American patrol between Reuners wood and Jury wood (between Selcheparg and Pliny) encountered an enemy patrol early this morning. For an hour and a half the American patrol tried to make some of the enemy prisoners but without result, although a number of flights with pistols and

When the secretary's train came into the aviation region the sky was darkly overcast and the clouds were of a blue-gray color with which the observers say constitutes the first background for seeing air work. Many monoplane and biplane awaited the secretary's arrival upon the field; then with a rush one after another took the air. Within an hour of the morning a hundred machines were in flight and every machine was driven by an American. Individual aviators practiced maneuvers under combat, such as reversing the direction of the flight by turning edgewise upon one wing, spinning in nose dives, then there were evolutions in formation of four, six, after that in squadrons of fifteen.

Former Deputy Game Warden Fined for Shooting Ducks

Arrest and fining of a former deputy game warden at Rosalie, in the person of James Hinko, who is now the city and village manager at that place, besides being the editor of a newspaper called the "Buzz-Saw," was accomplished by Chief Game Warden Koster and Traveling Deputy Harms, while scouting in the vicinity of that place a few days ago.

Three others were taken into custody at that time, and all pleaded guilty. One of the men, who was charged with shooting three ducks, that being the number found by the game warden, was fined $25.00. The fine assessed against each one for that offense was $15 and $20.

They were also made defendants on the second charge of hunting with a license. The total fine was $125.00. For this they paid fines of $12 apiece, making a total of $150.00 for every one of the four to pay, or $75.00 for the whole bunch.

It is supposed that there had killed a good many more ducks, but three were all that Warden Koster and his assistant could find. The camp was about miles from a village. The other two were taken into custody. The men arrested and fined with Hinko were Pete Couture, P. L. and G. Saliers.

everything we know and your young men have taken to the art with astonishing facility, as well as audacity, nerve and resource. The difficulties fascinate and inspire them. I think it must be what you call the 'mystery' of the machine."

Secretary Baker discussed with various of the aviators themselves the difference between the machine. He brought to the subject much knowledge of detail and unvaried interest. He spent much time talking with the men and examining with them the types of machines, some of which he saw for the first time.

The closing incident of the morning's air training was a combat and escape of one plane when attacked. The secretary watched with intense interest. He then visited the machine shops and settings shops and the storage building. He had explained to him the school organizations, which include eight classes, each with a separate camp. Ship sporting rivalry exists among them.

U. S. PUTS BAN ON SEDITION PUS BOOK

Government Forbids Distribution and Sale of "Finished Mystery."

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Because "The Finished Mystery," a bible study book, described patriotism as "a certain delusion," and "a narrow minded hatred of other peoples," and war as "a work of Satan," distribution of the book was forbidden yesterday by the department of justice, acting under the espionage act.

Thousands of copies of the book have been sent in many states, but it was not until yesterday that the department decided to prohibit its distribution. District attorneys were notified to prosecute any dealers or other persons selling or offering the book for sale or distribution.

The book purports to be the posthumous work of the late Pastor Charles Taze Russell and was published in Brooklyn by the peoples' pulpit association, which are affiliated the International Bible Students' association, and the Watchtower Tract and Bible Class. It was compiled by Clayton J. Woodworth of Scranton, Pa., who has been arrested on a charge of sedition for writings. It was alleged to have prepared the book since the war started, and to have inserted derogatory references to America's cause in the war.

The department of justice explained that it would not institute proceedings against the book if it had been written before the war, or if all the material that it really says had been written by Russell, who died in 1916. It is understood the publishers have agreed after consultation with the department officials to eliminate the objectionable passages. Some time ago the publishers agreed to mail the mails by Canadian authorities.

Shallenberger Wants Draft Quotas Based On Total Registration

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representative Shallenberger of Nebraska, democratic member of the house military committee, sought to interest President Wilson last night in a plan for basing future army drafts on volunteers. He said afterward he hoped at a conference tomorrow to induce the war department to make drafts in credits for volunteers, but did not appear encouraged over the outlook for the remainder of the plan.

Mr. Shallenberger, who was accompanied to the White House by Representative of Alabama, chairman of the military committee, is one of six committeemen who joined in a minority report against the administration bill to base quotas on the number of men in class A.

Relieve Your Indigestion With A Laxative

Dyspepsia know that indigestion is accompanied by constipation, that until the bowels can be regulated so they will act freely and naturally every day at a stated time, swallowing dyspepsia tablets is of little use.

A great and growing number of sufferers from this trouble find immediate and then permanent relief by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The laxative herbs act on the bowels and the pepsin and extracts on the digestive tract, forming an exceptionally effective laxative tonic.

It is a combination that has been found wonderfully helpful in indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, bad breath, belching and gas on the stomach. A small dose is all that is required.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

NO INCREASE
In spite of enormous increased laboratory work due to the war, the manufacturers of the famous Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are guaranteeing the same quality and quantity of the medicine as before. It is a large bottle and by druggists for 75 years.

Gas Fumes Frighten Residents

Charity Organizations Busy

STEEL CORPORATION ANNOUNCES CHRISTMAS TREE FOR CHILDREN

Xmas Tree For Children Of Employees

The announcement by the Pittsburgh Steel company that a big Christmas tree will be provided and that Santa Claus will visit the thousands of children of the employees of the mill, is welcome news to those who will share in the good things provided. The immense tree, the largest to be brought here, will be placed in the fabric room of the Pittsburgh Steel company and on Christmas morning between 11 and 12 o'clock the little folks will assemble from all sections to the number of more than three thousand and they will receive such gifts as the good Santa senters among little children.

Superintendents, foremen and officials of the big plant will gather in the room to enjoy the rarest treat that has ever been offered during a holiday season in watching the little folks in their enthusiasm grab up the gifts and cheer the program as it varied on. Santa will be there himself with two assistants, and will hand out the candy and the presents. This is the first time in the history of the big mill that such a task has been undertaken and there is no doubt but what the idea will prove a most popular one and that the thousands of little folks as well as their parents will fully appreciate an effort like this.

The Last Two Days Are the Hardest

Sewer Gas Causes Alarm In Hill District

Residents of First street hill were given a scare and many were driven hurriedly from their home late yesterday evening when deadly gas fumes were detected in many of the houses.

Calls for aid were sent to the Peoples Natural Gas Company, and the city officials and in a few moments the gas company had a force of men in the community while J. A. Watkins, superintendent of streets and public improvements, Health Officer Francis Gibson and City Engineer Thomas Fennie also hurried to the scene to investigate.

The homes of C. C. Bolig, C. L. Kuhlbeck, W. M. Trago, Boyd Bloom and many others in the vicinity of First and Linden were visited and the poisonous gas fumes were easily detected. The occupants of the houses went to the street while windows and doors were thrown open and furnace fires were extinguished.

After investigation the gas officials stated that the fumes were not from a leaking gas main and the city officials traced it to the sewer and down the hill to First and McKee.

Yesterday shortly after the noon hour a huge truck of the Hagan Ice Cream company ran away down the hill and was wrecked at the corner of First and McKee. The gasoline tank was broken and ten gallons of gasoline ran into the sewer. By evening the fumes had reached the hill district and were escaping into the cellars of the residences giving cause for the alarm.

A force of city employees soon had a stream of water pouring into the sewers and after flushing the pipe thoroughly all danger had passed and the occupants of the homes again closed their houses and retired in comfort and safety.

Struck By Auto

Paul McCoy, aged 23, of Black Diamond, suffered a broken arm and other injuries about the body last night when he was struck by an automobile on the Donora pike between Victory Hill and Black Diamond.

The driver of the machine did not stop after hitting McCoy, but continued towards Donora. McCoy, who was enroute to his home from Victory Hill, was hurled to the ground with such force that his forearm was fractured above the wrist. He walked to a nearby house, and then was assisted to his own residence. The injured man was unable to give a clue as to the identity of the driver, or the number of his car. He told the police that he only noticed the curtains were on the driver's side of the machine. McCoy stated that after he was struck by the car it continued on its way at rate of speed which he estimated at 25 miles an hour.

Near Death

When thrown into the Monongahela river as a barge towed by the steamer Keystone struck a wall of Lock No. 1 at 7 o'clock last night, Thomas Long, aged 35, of Charlevoix, first mate, was rescued by other boatmen. His head struck the barge as he fell overboard and he was rendered unconscious.

He was carried to shore and given first aid. After attempts at resuscitation with a pulmotor he was taken to the Mercy hospital, where it was said his condition is serious.

The fact that Long had a rope lashed about him when he was forced overboard is believed to have saved his life. The boatmen were able to catch an end of the rope and the unconscious man was pulled to the barge.

Entertains Club

Mrs. J. W. Pritchard very pleasantly entertained the D. H. D. Club last evening at her home on Second street. The evening was spent in games, music and guessing contests. Mrs. P. A. Dalton won two prizes and Mrs. Esther Holt and Mrs. Paul Kessler each won a prize. Two new members were admitted into membership. At a late hour Mrs. Pritchard invited the guests to the dining room where the table was fairly groaning with good things to eat. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Frow, Mrs. C. Koller, Mrs. Paul Kessler, Mrs. Esther Holt, Misses Claire Smith and Jennie Kessler. Mrs. J. W. Pritchard, Ed Smith Cy Edwards and Howard Higgins.

Defeat Alumni

The High school varsity girls' basketball team easily defeated the Alumni in a practice game at the Junior High school gymnasium last evening by a score of 30 to 7. Their first home game against an out of town opponent will be played on January 6th, when West Newton girls, champions of Western Pennsylvania in 1922, will try conclusions with them. This game will be a preliminary to the boys' contest with West Newton.

Season tickets for the season are on sale, adult's $2.50 and student's $1.50. They can be secured from any member of the ticket committee, the Motz Lumber Co.'s office, Kirk's drug stores or at the principal's office in either the high school or Junior High.

Toys Burned

Warren, Pa., Dec. 23—Fire early today destroyed the barn and all the Christmas presents for the 40 children at the Ruth M. Smith home for children at Sheffield. House furnishings for a new dormitory for boys to be occupied January 1st, also were destroyed.

The home was maintained by the Erie Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The presents were from churches in the conference.

Condemns Puzzle

Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, pastor of old "Brimstone Corner" in Pittsburgh, doesn't like the cross word puzzle craze. He says: "The working of a cross-word puzzle is the mark of childish mentality."

"A mature mind recognizes the value of studying the dictionary, but juvenile psychology which is the psychology of the country as a whole has to make a game out of it and kid itself into the belief it is having fun. There is no use for persons to pretend that working one of the puzzles carries any intellectual value with it."

State Police Are Active

State police are domiciled in Charlevoix and it is understood they have instructions to remain until after the holiday period. The troopers are patrolling the roads leading into the town searching for contraband liquor. Charlevoix has been under observation of late on account of numerous cellar parties that have aroused the ire of the citizens of the town, who have been putting forth a constant effort to improve living conditions and who oppose gambling and the illegal liquor traffic and who are responsible for five members of the state police being stationed there.

The first raid made by the troopers was the old Hotel Arthur on McKean avenue when Andrew Oates, a bartender was placed under arrest. Oates furnished bail in the sum of $1,000 before Justice of the Peace J. B. Smith, of Charlevoix, before whom information was made by Sergeant E. T. Cohen for his appearance at the February term of court. The Arthur Hotel is conducted by Frank B. Oates. It is understood that the very presence of the troopers has had a quieting effect and some of the "big fellows" who play great stakes are waiting for the activities of the reformers to cease before dropping around.

HAPPY CHRISTMAS ASSURED ALL WORTHY POOR AND UNFORTUNATES OF COMMUNITY

This is the time when good cheer is manifest, when peace on earth and good will to men permeates throughout all mankind, when the spirit of the lowly Nazarene is demonstrated in the thought and care and interest given to others, when in remembrance of His birth and commemoration of His acts man becomes thoughtful of the less fortunate.

Christmas with all its joys and happiness is in full tide. Kind words, good deeds, generous impulses are in evidence all around us, and it is with more than gratification, it is with joy that we note that the Northern Italian Political Association, corner of Fourth street and Knox avenue, have voted to contribute to the Board of Charity of the city $25.00 and to the Salvation Army $25.00 and will make a further disbursement of $50.00 under personal supervision.

This act upon the part of this Association will merit the approval of all good people, will merit the gratitude and thanks of those who receive of its bounty, and the Association will find to its credit that such deeds bring joy and delight not only to the donors but also to those receiving. It is just acts like these that bring man into the full realization that the greatest duty of man is to man and that no greater joy can come to one than that which comes from service, for a real blessing comes to him who serves.

A new organization in the field this Christmas that is doing much to relieve the suffering and add to the joys of the unfortunate at this glad Christmas time is the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion. They have not confined themselves to the aid of ex-service men and their families, but this season after taking care of these unfortunates they started out over the district in answer to calls and have aided many families.

Eight well filled boxes were dispatched last week to ex-service men who are patients in the various hospitals over the country. This week the committee, headed by the president, Mrs. A. R. Wilson, visited homes in this city. Belle Vernon the destitute family of a blind man was given clothing and provisions. Eight small children are included in the family. At Webster a lonely widow, whose husband was killed a short time ago, was given aid while at Webster Hollow a widow and two children were furnished with clothing and provisions.

On Seneca street, this city, a family of a man and his wife and eight children were given aid. The father is ill in bed and there were no signs of Christmas cheer until the arrival of the committee. A tubercular patient with blankets and other necessities to make him as comfortable as possible.

The Monessen Lodge of Elks No. 773 will, as usual, carry out its holiday charity program on a large scale and many families will be made happy with well filled baskets of groceries, clothing, shoes and money, when it is found necessary. Seventy-two baskets containing ham, potatoes, candy, oranges and other groceries, will be distributed by the lodge before Christmas Day.

The Salvation Army has an extensive program for the holidays, the local workers are in close touch with those who are in need of aid and they will distribute baskets of groceries, clothing, shoes and toys to the worthy poor of the district. Just now they are appealing to the public through their pots on the street corners for contributions in order that none of the unfortunates may be passed by.

The Creation Society of this city will look after all their poor and needy and recently held a benefit concert and bazaar by which to raise funds for this purpose.

The Creation Beneficial Society distributed $257.00 in cash amount 28 unfortunates. This money included the proceeds of the benefit concert and a check from John G. Cheek for $61.00, which previously had been given him to defray his expenses while attending a convention as a delegate from the local society.

Charity committees of the various other lodges and organizations in the city have made a careful survey of their membership and the section in general and will see that none of the unfortunates are passed by at this time of the year.

The charity committee of the Board of Trade does not carry a fund to be dispersed at Christmas time, but confines its activities to all seasons of the year. The report at the last meeting, which is as follows, shows the work that is being done by this committee.

Report of charity committee for year 1924:

- 50 adults served, of whom
- 30 are widows with children
- 2 deserted wives with children
- 9 sick husbands with families
- 9 wives with sick husbands and families

There are 156 children in these families. Amount expended $3000.00. The statistical phase of the work does not in any way reflect the work of your committee, nor does it in any wise measure the great service rendered the unfortunate and indigent of this community through the instrumentality of the Board of Trade.

When it is understood that the expenditure of this money is done under circumstances the most needy and that our withholding aid would mean in a great many cases actual starvation, it will be seen that this is a most worthy activity. We have used our good offices to have imbecile children sent to the proper institutions; and demented adults to Dixmont, tubercular victims sent to Greenock. We have given medical attention to the sick, which they were unable to provide for themselves.

In the carrying out of our work as your representatives we have endeavored to be intelligent, patient and sympathetic.

We hope that our treatment of these children will teach them that society is not heartless, that they in turn when they grow to manhood and womanhood may serve others and thus justify the interest you are now taking in them.

For Radio Fans

The International Bible Students are broadcasting a special program this week from Watchtower, Station WBBK, at Brooklyn, N. Y., which is one of unusual merit. The Monessen radio unit is asked and urged to "listen in" as they will hear something of real worth. A good program was rendered Sunday and yesterday and on Thursday, Christmas Day, an unusually good program has been arranged. At 8 o'clock in the evening the Watchtower orchestra will play several numbers and at 8:20 there will be several vocal solos and duets, embracing Christmas selections. At 8:30 the program proper will begin: at which time there will be several violin solos by Dr. Hans Hantz, and Christmas carols by the International Bible Students Association Choral singers, following which at 9:10 Judge Rutherford will give a Bible lecture "Rapture of the Angels." At the conclusion of the lecture a vocal quartet will sing "O Holy Night," the accompaniment being played by the Watchtower String Quartette.

Discover Brewery

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Dec. 23—The source of high test beer which has been flooding McKeesport was uncovered today when Detectives discovered a small brewery on the Long Run road, Versailles township in a bungalow some distance off the road. The detective found 12 vats in operation. These were destroyed and 20 barrels of high test beer confiscated, Joseph Paff, 30 and his brother Andrew, 25 said to be former brewers of Detroit were arrested.

Flee From Fire

(By United Press)

Greensburg, Dec. 23—Several families including four small children and an aged woman were driven from their homes early today by fire which destroyed a grocery store and two frame dwellings in Lincoln Heights, four miles west of here causing damage of $25,000.

Other property was threatened, but firemen from Greensburg, Jeannette and Irwin prevented spread of the flames.

Address Rotary

George W. Hughes was the speaker before the Rotary club today, his subject being the "History of Steel." He dealt with his subject both from a historical and scientific standpoint and he demonstrated that he has a knowledge of the industry of which he has made a life study. He started with the history of the iron industry and traced it through its various developments into what is commonly termed the iron age, or the present time. Mr. Hughes spoke evidence of the fact that he is familiar with the growth and the development of the steel business in all of its various phases. His talk was doubly interesting locally because Monessen has developed as a city as a result of the growth of the steel business.

Cold Christmas

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 23—Christmas Day will be cold over almost the entire United States and there will be snow throughout the middle west and east to the Atlantic coast, the weather bureau announced today.

Rising temperatures will bring snow or rain east of the Mississippi tonight and tomorrow. Another cold spell arising in the east Wednesday and in the south Thursday will serve the snowfall for a white Christmas.

Four Burned

(By United Press)

Uniontown, Pa., Dec. 23—Four persons are in the Uniontown hospital today following the explosion of a heating stove at Shamrock near here. The explosion occurred when Mrs. Mary Cochran, 46, poured kerosene on a coal fire. She and her two small children and a boarder were burned.

Destroy Beer

(By United Press)

Greensburg, Pa., Dec. 23—State troopers early today destroyed the contents of a carload of beer seized on the Pennsylvania railroad west of here. The car contained 100 half barrels and 72 full barrels of 5 per cent beer valued at $8,000.

Guard Home

(By United Press)

Uniontown, Pa., Dec. 23—A police guard was thrown around the residence of Mrs. Mary Dorchak of Crossland avenue today when a Black Hand note threatening death was found on the door step. Mrs. Dorchak said she was unable to explain the letter which was wrapped round two 38 calibre revolver shells.

Youthful Thieves Arrested

A trio of youthful thieves are prisoners in the local city jail after having confessed to entering the store of Edward Edwards in Friedale and stealing $40.00 in cash from a register and taking merchandise valued at over $100.00. The prisoners are Charles Kutick, John Tyloski and Frank Chaboy, all about 18 years of age and living in Friedale.

It is alleged that late Sunday night they gained entrance to the store by breaking a front door, and once in the building they ransacked the cash register, taking the money which was principally in small change. After helping themselves to candy and other articles they departed and the robbery was not discovered until the following day.

Constables Mochnay and Wyatt were called and immediately started to investigate. Their first clue was discovered in Belle Vernon, where one of the youths had purchased a pair of trousers and other articles and paid the bill in quarters. It was known that he had two companions with him at the time and the officers trailed them to a theatre, where the trio was found.

They were placed under arrest and confessed and charges were brought against them before Alderman J. B. White of this city and they will be given a hearing today.

Trees Are Not Dead—Just Slow

Development of Leaves, Bloom Delayed as Result of Warm Winter Temperatures

Many growers are worrying about the condition of their deciduous fruit and walnut trees this spring, according to M. H. Kimball, assistant farm advisor in Los Angeles county for the University of California. Inquiries and comments are frequent to the effect that walnut, peach, apricot and other deciduous fruit trees must be almost dead, as they are slow coming into bloom and putting out leaves. Mr. Kimball points out that these trees are not dead, but that the normal development of leaves and bloom is delayed as a result of warm winter temperatures which existed during December, January, and February past. This condition, known as "Delayed Pollination" or "Abnormal Dormancy," has occurred in Southern California many times in the last ten years. Growers who have been in the business that length of time will remember that the seasons of 1924, 1926, 1928, 1930, and 1931 were abnormal to a greater or lesser extent, 1924 and 1928 being the worst.

The delayed condition is not a failure of the tree to go completely dormant. It is rather a failure of the tree to "wake up" in the spring. Most of our peach, apricot, apple, pear, plum, walnut, and some of our berry varieties have grown for centuries under more northern or temperate zone conditions rather than the subtropical conditions in Southern California, and therefore require for proper growth a certain amount of cold weather in the winter time. Failing to experience this cold weather, they are not in condition to grow properly in the spring.

Walnut Bacteriosis (Blight) Bulletin Available

The results of many years' experimental work in developing a control spray for walnut bacteriosis, commonly called "blight," are available in bulletin form, according to M. H. Kimball, assistant farm advisor in Los Angeles county for the University of California. This bulletin is called "Bacteriosis (Blight) of the English Walnut in California and Its Control." It was issued recently as University of California Bulletin No. 564.

In this bulletin, Professor B. A. Rudolph, associate plant pathologist, University of California, has described and illustrated the various stages of bacteriosis infection in the walnut. Formulas for spray control and the results obtained in the experimental work are clearly set forth in a very excellent manner.

This bulletin is available to any one who desires it at the office of the Farm Advisor, 534 North Spring, Los Angeles.

Rabbit Breeders' Conference

The San Gabriel Valley Rabbit club will hold the second lecture of the spring series on Monday evening, March 26, at 8:00 o'clock sharp. This lecture is to be on the line of a round table conference. The attendance will be asked what feeds they are using, what results are obtained, and why they think their feed is best. H. M. Walker of El Monte will conduct this conference, he being one of the original members of the San Gabriel Valley Rabbit club and a breeder of good stock. Mr. Walker's experience with good rabbits and good feeds will make this a very interesting meeting. Everyone interested in rabbits and rabbit meat is requested to attend. Light refreshments will be served at the end of the meeting.

Come and bring a friend to Temple City Community church, corner of Golden West and Woodruff avenues, March 26, 1934.

Selecting Members of Industry Board

Study Egg and Poultry Marketing Situation in Area Affected

Four out of six of the producer representatives to the Southern California Egg Industry board have been selected, according to information from L. D. Sanborn, assistant farm advisor in Los Angeles county for the University of California. District No. 1, which includes Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, and Kern counties, selected Raymond D. Nelson of Kingsburg. District No. 2, composed of San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, and Ventura counties, has not yet made its selection. District No. 3, made up of the San Fernando and Antelope valleys, selected Fred R. Schindler of Canoga Park. District No. 4, which includes San Gabriel valley, Pomona valley, and south Los Angeles county, has not yet made its selection. District No. 5, comprising Riverside and San Bernardino counties, selected J. C. Gallinas of Ontario. District No. 6, which includes Orange, San Diego, and Imperial counties, selected M. A. Schofield of Vista.

At a conference of producers and distributors at which W. D. Ter-mohlen, in charge of the poultry work under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, was present, some few changes were recommended. R. F. Wilcox, marketing specialist for the University of California, was instructed to revise the agreement and place it in the hands of the distributors' committee, eventually any agreement worked out under the A. A. will have to be between distributors and the secretary of agriculture. However, producers have equal representation on the industry board, which is set up to regulate the agreement as well as to present their side of the story at the public hearing.

VETERAN'S PLAN SEEMS REASONABLE

The American Legion, at its recent national convention in Chicago, adopted what is known in Legion circles as the "Four-point program." This represents the conservative plan and expectations of the masses of Legionnaires throughout the country. It is a fair, reasonable and just program. These are the four points of the program:

1. That no war veteran disabled in the line of duty suffers reduction of those benefits granted such veterans in the World War Veterans' Act as in effect prior to March 20, 1933.

2. That hospitalization under federal government auspices be afforded all veterans not dishonorably discharged who require hospital treatment and who are not able to reasonably pay for their own treatment.

3. That perpetuation of service connection for all veterans properly granted such service connections under laws in existence prior to March 20, 1933, be recommended as an item of Legion policy.

4. That the benefits provided for dependents of veterans as established in the World War Veterans' Act be resumed and maintained as the government's policy and that in no event shall widows and/or dependent children of deceased World War veterans be without governmental protection.

Surely there can be no valid objection to this program, which calls for an increase of not to exceed $100,000,000 allowance for veterans, the nation over. Should not these deserving veterans who, at the call of their country, left home and family and jobs and all that men hold dear, to stake their lives, to offer their bodies maimed or to become infected with disease—should not these veterans have first claim among all the classes and groups, to the fair and generous consideration of their government? Surely they should.—Pasadena Star-News, March 3, 1934.

Chaminade Lyric club members have been asked to assemble at the home of the director and Mrs. Fredrick Vance Evans of Whittier, on Thursday, April 5. The group will meet in time for luncheon. A short business meeting and a social time will take place during the afternoon.

The annual election of officers will not take place until fall, thus the present officers and chairmen of the committees will hold over the summer months arranging monthly social affairs that will bring the club members together.

Mrs. Robert B. Moore, club president, entertained the executive board at luncheon at her home in Arcadia last week. At that time it was decided that the election should not take place until fall. All club members are asked to keep the date of April 5 for the meeting in Whittier.

DEPENDABILITY

Now, at the start of the 1934 baby chick season, is the time when poultrymen must select their feed supply. These times have taught us all the value of dependability. Through the years Ace Hi feeds have maintained unfailing dependability and many poultrymen now know that it pays to buy good feeds. Ace Hi dependability has been conclusively proven.

Start your baby chicks on Ace Hi and follow through with Growing-Mash and Laying Mash to greater poultry profit. Ace Hi feeds have years of success behind them, and thousands of poultrymen today are profiting from feeding them.

BABY CHICK BROODING MASH

Fast Growth with Low Mortality

GROWING MASH

For Healthy Growth

LAYING MASH

For heavy fall and winter production as well as spring

People who depend on poultry for their entire income have come to know that Ace Hi feeds are, year after year, dependable, high grade feeds, at prices which always justify the cost. Our 1934 chick feeds are the best we have ever made.

Our poultry field supervisors, who have a thorough knowledge of modern poultry research, are available upon direct request to the California Milling Corporation at Los Angeles, or through feed stores who stock Ace Hi.

Lesson for Boys on "Sprinting" by World Record Holder

Emerson "Bud" Spencer former world's record holder for 400 meters, gives the following pointers to improve speed.

The first principle of running and all forms of competition in athletics is relaxation. Every boy should strive for this relaxation in running.

Starting is conceded to be the most difficult part of sprinting to master. A race is won or lost in the first few yards, but not because a man leaves his holes a fraction of a second later than his opponent. Many of the world's fastest sprinters won fame because of a sweeping finish, but these cyclonic finishes would never have been possible had not the winner come from his holes with the degree of perfection which found him in excellent running position before he started his drive.

You cannot run until you have propelled yourself into running position. Starters take shorter steps coming from their holes because they cannot take a long, full stride until momentum will warrant it. Perfect running position is a slight lean forward with the head and back of the head in a straight line.

The crouching start is used with tips of the toes and the hands should be spread too far apart, and when you are in your marks properly your elbows should be in. In other words your arms should be straight, elbows not bent.

The placing of holes depends on the physique of each individual. Long-legged boys naturally require a greater spread than short, stocky counters. The position should be comfortable and the back hole must not be so far back that the rear leg comes too straight in the "set" position. Don't worry about which leg you use to push from the holes. That comes natural.

It is necessary that the first stride be the command. "On your mark," the runner assumes a relaxed position with his weight forward on the tips of his fingers. In this way, at the command, "Get set," the boy's weight is forward and he is immediately ready to throw himself on.

Two of the difficulties boys will experience in learning to start will come from an improper starting position and in taking long strides before running position.

Boys should run full tilt to the tape. Many boys have a bad habit of slowing up when the tape is near. Make it a rule to run clear through the tape. Try to master the start. It is essential in the latter part of your race that you get out of your holes in the proper starting manner. That is more than half of springtime as far as boys are concerned.

Central Control of Rural Roads Being Discussed

Widespread interest has developed in the theory of centralized administration of all rural roads, recently endorsed in principle, as an economy and efficiency measure by Automobile Club of Southern California directors.

Various angles of the present set-up versus the central control idea for road maintenance and development are now being discussed in many sections between officials concerned. Informal highway studies, discussion and auto club representatives. Also being considered is the matter of a more equitable allocation of gasoline tax revenue as between city streets and rural roads.

Pointing out the evident duplication of effort and lack of coordination in the building and improving of roads by fifty-eight county boards of supervisors on one hand, and the state itself on the other, club directors in a resolution instructed the organization's engineering and legal departments to draft detailed recommendations for possible revision of the system.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY NEWS

Bogus Bills Bring Prison

Los Angeles Times: Walter M. Claire, alias Walter Maxwell, was sentenced to fifteen months in federal prison by United States District Judge Hollister on a charge of passing counterfeit $20 note. Claire refused to explain the source of the bogus currency.

Foreclosure Curb Upheld

Los Angeles Times: Persons foreclosing street improvement bonds will be compelled to pay the penalties due to the city for delinquencies and also to procure a cancellation of the bond before the entry of the judgment of foreclosure by the county clerk, according to a decision rendered by Superior Judge Wilson.

Mushroom Gift Rejected

Claremont Courier: A Claremont family was recently the pleased recipient of a "mess" of freshly gathered mushrooms, the gift of a friend. Great was their rejoicing and greater their anticipation as this delight of the epicure was prepared to add zest to the coming meal.

Enter the wife. When the busy housewife came in, she found the mess in the day, she opened the daily paper and noted a headline in large display type: "Many Die From Mushroom Feast." The wife, without further ado, said housewife took the mushrooms in hand and led them sans ceremony to the back yard. In the back yard. Apparently better that if daisies must be pushed up, the mushrooms should do it themselves and not pass the buck.

FIRST AVE. SCHOOL NOTES

MUSIC NEWS

The departmental system of the First Avenue school is having somewhat very interesting results. Each class is having a musical program once a month consisting of piano solos and things of that nature. Miss Leaver's 7B class is going to have one Thursday, and Mrs. Twombly's 7A class will have one in the near future. Also each class will have an accompanist known as the "Class Pianist." The tryouts will take place soon and the best one will be chosen by the class.

Singing is coming along fine, and Mrs. Wadleigh, who recently tested the voices, says that there are a number of very good voices, alto, tenor-alto, sopranos, etc.

The 8A's are working on "The Beautiful Blue Danube" by Strauss, as a choral number which will be used for graduation in June—Elsie Mae Schermerhorn, Music Editor, Grade 8A.

VISIT TO SOUTHWEST MUSEUM

Twenty-two 7A class students of the southwest museum Friday, March 3. The children were transported to and from the museum in private cars driven by Mrs. Twombly, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Brookover, Mrs. Ramus, Mr. Davidson, and Mr. Adams.

The children saw many interesting things, some of which were: Three Indian mummies, relics belonging to the Indians, religious weapons, dolls, pottery, totem poles, katchina dolls, masks, miniature tepees, boats, Fremont's American flag, an eagle, made old books and skulls. This interesting visit will greatly help the children in their studies of the Indians.

Comparing to write paragraphs on "What they saw at the museum."—Thelma Sprague, 8B.

MRS. HAWLEY'S ROOM

In athletics, the pupils in Mrs. Hawley's class are planning a series of activities. One of them will be the high jump. The other is to be a horsehoe pitching contest—Mary E. Griffin, 8B.

OFFICE NEWS

The patron and safety committee have succeeded in stopping all bicycle riding on the school grounds. No accidents have been reported as yet.—Thelma Sprague.

The Easter vacation will start

Monday, March 26, and end Friday, March 30.

Everybody is going to have a good time, dyeing eggs and fixing up baskets to give to the little children at home.—Lo Ree Gansner, 8B.

A REAL TREAT

Thursday last, the students and faculty of the First Avenue school were treated to a real surprise. About 9:30 that morning Principal Nisbet announced that a mounted policeman from Canada had come to talk to us. After assembling on the bleachers, Major Greville H. Shook introduced himself as the mounted constable of the Dominion of Canada. He was dressed in full uniform with a bright red coat and like that of the red coats of long ago. At the age of 67 he is very active still being in service under the British government.

While serving as a mounted police in Africa he collected numerous articles of interest, among them being skins of the leopard, wolf, tiger, zebra, some of which are over forty years old. Major Shook also had many kinds of artillery from different places. Some of the weapons were those of the natives of Africa. The major showed us an overgrown lizard skin that was killed in Mexico over 250 years ago. A very large bullet was used and the hole from the bullet is still visible on the head. It is a beautiful specimen for a reptile 250 years old. Everything Major Shook said was breathtaking and was enjoyed by all—Elsie Mae Schermerhorn, 8A.

OFFICE NEWS

Mr. Palmer has gone to a great deal of work and trouble getting

California Highway Patrol to Watch for Drunken Drivers

E. Raymond Cato, chief, California Highway Patrol, March 8, to all traffic officers.

An alarming situation is fast developing due to the increase of deaths in motor vehicle accidents throughout the state. Analysis of these accidents show an enormous increase in the number of drunken drivers.

Another alarming fact is that while drunk-driving accidents have increased in January, 1934, there has been a reduction in the number of arrests made for drunken driving as compared with January, 1933.

This condition must be improved immediately. District inspectors and captains will call officers together and apprise them of the above facts, and they will also arrange the schedules of your officers and assign officers at strategic points and check the hour of their duty.

I shall expect an immediate increase in activities and decrease in the accident problem. District inspectors and captains will seek the support of the local press in a continued effort against the above mentioned violations. You will also advise the justices of the peace in your district of the facts above stated.

Rifle Club to Hold Shoot

Membership in Club Closed Indefinitely; Visitors Are Welcome at Range

The Arcadia Rifle Club scheduled shoot will be held this week-end at the Police range. Starting Saturday afternoon about 1:30, a group of about fourteen will fire the 50-foot course with the small bore rifle. Four positions will be fired—prone, kneeling, sitting and standing—five shots in each position, with three sighting in shots. This shoot will be to be a "hard nut" for the majority of the club members to crack with the exception of a few close distance shooters, who may be able to find the target at fifty feet, standing position, free rifle (no sling allowed) in 100 yards.

Sunday, the remainder of the club will fire the 75-foot course, fired the same as the 50-foot, including positions, shots and sighting in shots.

After the shooting this week is finished the members will have completed all ranges up to and including the 100-yard line. Upon completion of the contemplated new range, the club will then take in the 300-yard small bore course. However, upon the present range size 100 yards is the longest distance it is possible to fire.

Word was received from the Kansas club in regard to the postal shoot which were supposed to fire against the local club two weeks ago. The letter stated they would fire the course as soon as they could possibly find a spare day due to being thrown out of firing the course on March 11 on account of cold weather.

Membership in the local club is closed indefinitely, unless one of the present members drop out or a substitute is secured. Visitors are always welcome at any of the club shoots.

A MOTHER DIES OF JOY

While her two sons in the United States, worked to be able to bring her to this country, Mrs. Romona de Nunez, of Venezuela, waited ten years for the glad tidings that she would at last be united with her son.

The other day they were at the airport in New York to welcome her. She died of excitement as the ship came within sight of the Statue of Liberty, when her dream was at hand.

How often do men plot and plan, only to discover the futility of earthly power. The sons and their mother are now separated by a gulf that no boat can cross, and which science, with all intelligence, has been unable to fathom.

SPRING HOPE

Jordan State Game Farm To Be Dedicated August 24

An elaborate program is being planned for the dedication of the Jordan State Game Farm, Harlansburg, Lancaster County, named for Hon. C. G. Jordan, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture.

The event is being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association. Governor Fisher has been asked to attend the ceremonies and will be present if at all possible. The principal speakers will be Secretary Jordan and Mr. Ross L. Leffler, President of the Board of Game Commissioners.

In addition to the ceremonies of dedication, a trap shooting event is being planned for the afternoon and an Ox Roast, costing $1.00 per person, will be the feature of the evening. Preparations are being made to care for not less than 3,000 people. The association expects in the neighborhood of 5,000 however.

Following the banquet, motion pictures of various wild life subjects will be shown.

The results of the first year's experiment in raising Ringnecked Pheasants on the game farms have been gratifying indeed.

Approximately 28,000 eggs were produced at the Jordan Farm this season, and these were distributed among various Game Refuge Keepers, Sportsmen's Associations, and individual sportsmen throughout the State, a number being retained at the Jordan Farm however. Approximately 3000 young pheasants were successfully raised at the Jordan Farm.

These birds, with the exception of a sufficient number for next year's breeding stock, are now being shipped to various sections of the State.

HERE'S ONE GOOD CAMPAIGN.

Automobile traffic deaths attract attention everywhere. That the fatality list is excessive appears plainly to all.

We hasten to commend the Rotary Clubs of this county for their decision to launch a nation-wide campaign to curb the mounting toll of automobile traffic deaths.

Safer highway construction, annual inspection of motor vehicles and standardization of traffic regulations are suggested as a beginning.

WEEKLY HEALTH TALK

"The wayside eating stand has ceased to be an incidental affair. Both in numbers and types it has had an enormous growth in the past few years. Motorists by the thousands are now depending upon these establishments, not only for occasional refreshment but for their full fledged meals as well. It has thus become a great seasonal business of national importance," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, today.

"It is true that conditions are improving in many of these places and that the regular standards of cleanliness and sanitation are being more carefully observed than formerly was the case. On the other hand, there are yet many stands of this character whose proprietors pay little if any attention to the conditions in and around them. And it is rather surprising how many people who are finicky concerning their food when served at home or in restaurants pay no attention whatsoever to insanitary and even unsafe service when they are on the road.

"Health departments and national distributors of food and refreshments are cooperating extensively in the movement for better and cleaner stands. But even with public health and big business thus allied, the deciding factor in the last analysis is the patron himself.

"Before patronizing these establishments the automobilist should reasonably assure himself that the drinking water is safe, that the milk, if purchased, is sold in original containers, that facilities for the proper cleansing of eating and drinking utensils exist and that they are employed, and that the employees themselves present a clean appearance with particular reference to their hands and finger nails.

"Despite the concerted effort to improve conditions, unless a personal and intelligent cooperation of the thousands who daily avail themselves of the wayside service is exercised, the situation will continue to fall far short of that which should be expected of it. Let better and cleaner stands be a personal slogan. And govern yourself accordingly."

Judge Awaits Next Coming Of King David

Feels Ancient Ruler Will Return; Deeds Him
$75,000 Home

Friend of W. J. Bryan
One of Most Vigorous Religious Beliefs to Strike

California

Los Angeles, March 22 (UP).—A $75,000 Spanish mansion commanding a superb mountain view and lying almost within a stone's throw of the ruins of California's first mission awaits the coming of King David, slayer of Goliath.

Judge James Rutherford, owner of the mansion in San Diego and president of the International Bible Students and Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, admitted today that he was not quite sure when King David would appear, but added that "everything is ready for him when he does."

Judge Rutherford, once a Circuit judge of Missouri and a friend of William Jennings Bryan when the great Commoner first ran as the Democratic nominee for President, has deeded the property to King David, preferably, but he included any of the kings or prophets mentioned in the 11th Chapter of Hebrews as alternatives.

David, George, Barak, Sampson, Joseph, Joseph and Samuel are the Biblical characters who will find a great welcome at the hands of Judge Rutherford and his associates if they ever become residents of Southern California.

"I purposely landscaped the place with palm and olive trees so King David and these princes of the universe will feel at home when they come to offer man the chance to become perfect," said the old, dignified judge.

"But how will you identify King David or any of the other representatives from God?" Judge Rutherford was asked.

"Before I signed the deed I realized the possibility of some old coddler turning up bright and early and declaring he was David," the judge said. "When I have designated to test the identity of these men are officers of my societies and, having consecrated themselves to the Lord, they will be divinely authorized to know imposters from the real princes."

Records on file in San Diego show that the 10-room, two-story residence was turned over to Judge Rutherford by Robert J. Martin of Brooklyn, N. Y., for $100,000 consideration and that Judge Martin subsequently deeded it to the ancient kings.

Judge Rutherford's plan to establish the famous Biblical characters in comfortable California quarters is one of the most unique religious plans on record in a state where novel religious ideas are many.

A few months ago a cult known as the royal arm of the Great Etern stepped into the limelight when authorities found the body of a young girl preserved on ice under the home of her parents in Venice, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Investigation satisfied the police that there was nothing irregular about the girl's death. But after her demise the members of the Great Etern decided to preserve her body until the girl arose. She had been buried with elaborate caskets and the bones of a number of puppets—each representing some cult concord—had been placed in metal caskets at the head and foot of her bier.

Mrs. Mae Otis Blackburn was the leader of the Great Etern cult which held forth in the picturesque Santa Susana hills.

During the investigation of the girl's death trouble developed for the leader when Clifford Dabney, a man who made a fortune in the oil business, charged he had given Mrs. Blackburn $40,000 to publish a book which would disclose the hiding places of fabulous stores of minerals and jewels.

Sensational testimony was heard when Mrs. Blackburn came to trial on a grand theft charge.

Some cultists told how during a seance around a departed member Dabney suddenly snapped his fingers and shouted "Hey! Hey!" believing he could raise the dead.

Others told of angels and divine aspirations of all sorts.

Dabney, apparently disillusioned, maintained that all he received for his money donations was the impressive title "The Prince of the Hereafter and Now."

Mrs. Blackburn was convicted, sentenced to a term in prison and immediately appealed the case. She returned $30,000 to Dabney under a court ruling.

An order with a strong group of followers is the Old Star Institute, a group which gathers each summer in the Ojai Valley to camp and listen to words of wisdom from the lips of Jiddu Krishnamurti, noted young Hindu philosopher.

Krishnamurti, as he is familiarly called by his followers, now is in Los Angeles preparing for his summer's work, which will be carried on between May 24 and June 2.

East Indian philosophy claims thousands of adherents in the district of Yoga, and the teachings of the Sikhs are two of the leading beliefs embracing teaching resulting from the meditations of East Indian saviors.

One Los Angeles order finds solace in worshipping a cobra and has created an impressive creed around the water lily and the giant cobra. The lily is adulated because the cobra takes strength from its fragrance while the members, seeking wisdom, sit cross-legged on the floor in imitation of the coil of the cobra—a very wise serpent.

French Reds' Peace Pleas Stir Reprisal

Military Authorities Arrest Two and Begin Inquiry of 29 Others

Paris, Oct. 4 (AP).—Military authorities cracked down today on persons whose names appeared as signatories to an appeal for "immediate peace," arresting two and starting an inquiry against 29 others.

These steps seemed to characterize the government's reaction to the German-Soviet Russian offer of peace based on the partition of Poland. The appeal, in tract form, had been circulated among members of Parliament.

The two men arrested were identified as writers. One named Leonin and the other Jean Giono. The arrests were made under a decree law of Sept. 1 forbidding any publication "susceptible of exercising an unfortunate influence on the spirit of the army and the people."

"The French censor deleted from this dispatch the names of the 29 persons against whom investigation was ordered."

Meanwhile, semi-official sources asserted that French guns dominated six German industrial centers in the Saar and Palatinate regions of the western front—Bergheim, Pirmasens, Zweibrücken, Saarbrücken, Saarlouis and Metz.

Along a curving front of more than 60 miles, the French army was fighting patrol skirmishes in efforts to surround these cities. It was reported. Previously, the French were reported to hold 150 square miles of German territory containing 63 villages.

The French constantly were trying to widen their flanking movements aimed at capture of the six cities, while their planes photographed effects of artillery fire on Siegfried line fortifications.

This morning's War Ministry communiqué said the night was calm, but reported artillery fire from both sides in the region south of Zweibrücken.

Reports published in Paris said German motorized divisions had gathered at several interior points, such as Munich, Nuremberg and Hanover. It was said these units could move swiftly over super-highways for the west whenever Adolf Hitler gave the word to end the diplomatic interlude in the war.

French press interpreted British Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech yesterday as a "tremendous slap in the face" for Hitler.

(Chamberlain made a flat declaration before the House of Commons against dealing with Germany on the basis of "mere assurances" from the Nazis, but said he would welcome any peace proposals granting Britain's aim of ending "German aggression.")

The French Cabinet gathered this morning under chairmanship of President Albert Lebrun to review German-Russian diplomatic moves and consider other foreign and domestic problems involved in prosecution of the war.

Newspapers hailed Chamberlain's statement that "no threat can persuade our country or France to abandon the purpose for which we have entered the struggle." Some sources said Daladier would set forth the same attitude at the cabinet meeting, and also this afternoon at a Chamber of Deputies foreign affairs committee meeting.

The press predicted Daladier and his ministers would consider further action against French Communists whose party and party organs already have been dissolved.

Forty-three of the 70 Communist members of the Chamber of Deputies sent a letter to Edouard Herriot, Chamber president, backing the German-Russian overture for cessation of hostilities and suggesting that Parliament be called in to public session to discuss the peace question.

The Communist legislators have formed a new Chamber group which they call the French Peasants and Workers Party. It was under this title that the 43 sent the letter to Herriot.

The letter brought quick attacks in much of the press which declared it constituted proof of "intelligence with the enemy." The newspapers called for action against the new party.

Socialist Leader Leon Blum called the letter "scandalous."

Any measure depriving the Communist members of the Chamber of their parliamentary privileges must be adopted by the Chamber itself. Daladier has been in touch with Herriot.

Puts Gun to Head To Amuse Fellow Pupils, Kills Self

Associated Press Wirephoto
ALLEN H. SAUL, JR.

Rochester, Oct. 4 (UP).—East High School pupils mourned today the death of their youthful band leader, who shot himself accidentally during a trigonometry class.

The victim, Allen H. Saul, Jr., 15, was killed yesterday when he slipped an old revolver from his pocket while the teacher's attention was diverted and pulled the trigger while pressing the weapon against his head, apparently to amuse classmates.

The giggles of fellow students exploded to screams when the gun chimed and young Saul slipped from his seat, fatally wounded. Principal William Wolgast later ordered all classes dismissed for the day.

Dr. Richard Leonardo, Monroe County coroner, ruled the death accidental. He said that two of the victim's classmates told him that young Saul had brought the revolver to school the previous day and pulled the trigger several times without the gun discharging.

Higgins Again Is Grilled in Buffalo Trial

Democratic Chairman Carr to Take Stand in Own Defense

Buffalo, Oct. 4 (AP).—Special Prosecutor Frank G. Raichle planned today to continue cross-examination of former Police Commissioner James W. Higgins, charged with gambling conspiracy.

On trial with Higgins are former Erie County Democratic Chairman Frank J. Carr and five others, all charged with conspiracy to obstruct enforcement of gambling laws.

Meanwhile, Clayton M. Smith, attorney for Carr, announced the former political leader "would take the stand in his own defense against the State's charges either late today or tomorrow."

Higgins, who testified in his own behalf yesterday, denied he told Glenn H. McClellan, present police commissioner, he removed him as head of the gambling squad because "Frank Carr doesn't want you on the squad."

McClellan previously testified for the State that Higgins told him he was removed as chief of the squad because of Carr.

On cross-examination by Raichle, Higgins said he placed McClellan in charge of the gambling squad in 1934 "partly at Carr's suggestion."

Higgins added that Carr never directly asked him to "appoint or remove anybody in the police department to or from any job."

Higgins quoted Carr as saying to him: "You're always changing the heads of the gambling squads. Why don't you give that fellow McClellan a chance."

The former police veteran told the jury there were 2,093 gambling raids in 567 locations during the four years he was commissioner, 1934 to 1938, and said some of the places were "raided anywhere from 5 to 29 times each."

Radio May Put Ban on Fr. Coughlin

'Spokesmen of Controversial Subjects' to Be Kept Off Air

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP).—Radio time will not be sold to "spokesmen of controversial public issues," except under rigid limitations, under a new rule adopted by the code committee of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Father Charles E. Coughlin was said by the association's secretary, E. M. Kirby, to have been mentioned yesterday in discussion preceding adoption of the rule, which will apply to all stations in the organization.

Kirby said others mentioned were Judge Joseph F. Rutherford of New York, president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and the Rev. Walton E. Cole of Toledo, O., a Unitarian minister who has purchased radio time to reply to Father Coughlin's speeches.

Controversial public issues, the committee said, may be discussed on the radio during free time available for such broadcasts or on public-forum type programs under control of the station or network. Manuscripts of speeches must be submitted in advance.

Discussing the fight over the arms embargo, retention of which Father Coughlin has advocated, the committee said:

"While all Americans desire to stay out of war and preserve neutrality, the methods of achieving and maintaining the same are matters automatically falling within the sphere of public controversial issues" and as such should be presented on free time and not sold.

Association officials said they believed Father Coughlin may have radio contracts extending for two weeks into the future. The contracts can be fulfilled, they said, after which the ban will take effect.

In explaining its rule, the committee said: "This does not mean, of course, that those who wish to discuss matters of public controversy are barred from the air. Far from it. Through the new code, representative spokesmen of groups will be given free time to present their views, in accord with the public interest, program balance and availability of time."

The code will permit sale of time to political speakers during a campaign.

Officials said that the association's 437 members represented 92 per cent of commercial radio. The committee action is final unless a member station appeals to the association's board of directors, and the board upholds the appeal.

No Dollar Exchange in Latin America Handicaps U.S. Trade

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP).—Lack of dollar exchange in Latin America is seen by a group of business men and foreign trade experts as the greatest handicap to increased United States exports there.

The best remedy, they said last night after a discussion at the Commerce Department, would be for the United States to buy more from Latin America in order that it could obtain more goods from this country.

The group proposed also that the United States station a financial representative in every important commercial center in Latin America.

President Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that he favored any steps which would increase trade with Latin America. He said he had told Warren Lee Pierson, president of the Export-Import Bank, that he hoped the 1940 Congress would provide extra capital for the bank.

Neutral U.S. Is Demanded By WCTU

Evangelist Calls Drinking Worst Problem Raised by Prohibition Repeal

Rochester, Oct. 4 (UP).—National executives of the Women's Christian Temperance Union charted the organization's legislative program today as delegates to the 65th annual convention scattered to their homes.

At concluding sessions yesterday, the militant campaigners for prohibition turned their attention to world affairs and adopted a resolution calling upon President Roosevelt to use all the forces at his command to insure this nation's neutrality. Delegates declined to go on record, however, as to what course of action the President should adopt.

The Rev. Sam Morris, Del Rio, Tex., evangelist, told the convention that the "problem of drinking women is the worst of three produced by repeal." He listed the drinking driver and "camouflaged charity" as the others.

"The wets seek to avoid responsibility for development of drinking women by saying that prohibition got the women into a habit of drinking," the Rev. Morris asserted.

Polio Rises Again In Buffalo With Warmer Weather

Buffalo, Oct. 4 (UP).—Hopes that Buffalo's infantile paralysis outbreak had been checked faded today as the Board of Health announced that seven new cases had been reported during the last 24 hours.

Cool weather over the week-end, coupled with Sunday's record of only one case, had aroused hopes that the disease was diminishing. Return of higher temperatures was blamed for the sudden increase.

Latest reports brought the total number of persons stricken in the city since midsummer to 293.

ROME, they tell us, wasn't built in a day. Well, neither was this 1940 Buick you see, burning the breeze here.

You'll understand why when you know what we were aiming for. We wanted to combine in one car all the best we've learned in our 36 years in this business.

We think we've got it now. A stand-out sparkling car with action power and staying power.

It would be hopeless to try to list the whole range of new features—there are some 72 in all.

But you can't drive this car a mile without knowing that you have got hold of something that tops anything you ever handled.

It's smoother, steadier, firmer on the line. It gets up and goes right now, and keeps going without wander, tailwag or wind-swerve.

It takes the roughest roads in its stride, and while we don't want to go hinting about speed, this eager baby can whisk you to forty-five in first.

The sudden, soaring, millrace power of its matchless Dynafash straight-eight engine, electrically balanced after assembly to micropoised perfection, is velocity smoothed to velvet.

Yes, this beauty is our all-time high—the car we've been shooting at for lo! these many years.

Come drive it and you'll see why.

RUTHERFORD DEAD BUT BURIAL OF SECT LEADER IS DELAYED

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 12. (AP) Lying on his deathbed, Joseph Franklin Rutherford, 72, world leader of Jehovah's Witnesses, voiced a last wish.

He asked disciples to bury him at dawn of the day after death in a hillside crypt at Beth-Sarim, the estate he built here for the biblical King David's return to earth.

Rutherford died at the estate last Thursday in a passing kept secret until Saturday.

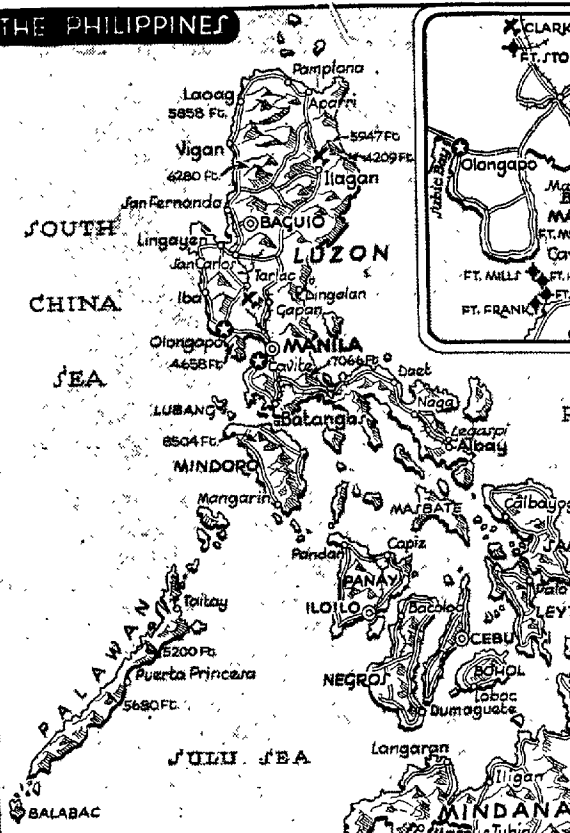

But today Rutherford's body was still unburied, his last wish thwarted by a county law forbidding burial on the estate because it is not a legally zoned cemetery.

Followers of the Jehovah's Witnesses' movement obtained a hearing date January 24 to present their burial permit petition before the county health commission. Preparations went ahead, meantime, on an apparently elaborate memorial to be erected at the estate.

Rutherford, an enemy of organized Christianity which he termed an "unholy alliance against the common people," had been ill here for two months. Dr. George Roy Stevenson, who signed the death certificate, said Rutherford had known for eighteen months of the malignant condition that eventually brought his death.

Chief of a movement that spread to thirty-six countries, Rutherford claimed two million followers to whom he prophesied a millennium. Dignified and severe, the former Missouri lawyer made thousands of addresses to gatherings of Witnesses and in later years over the radio. He campaigned for William Jennings Bryan in 1896, but some time later abandoned political affairs to become a follower of Pastor Charles Taze Russell, prophet of an approaching Armageddon and a man who preached hell was a myth.

After Russell died in 1916, Rutherford assumed the leadership of an expanded movement. Although Rutherford refused to set any definite year for the arrival of the millennium, his followers kept alive the statement that "millions now living will never die."

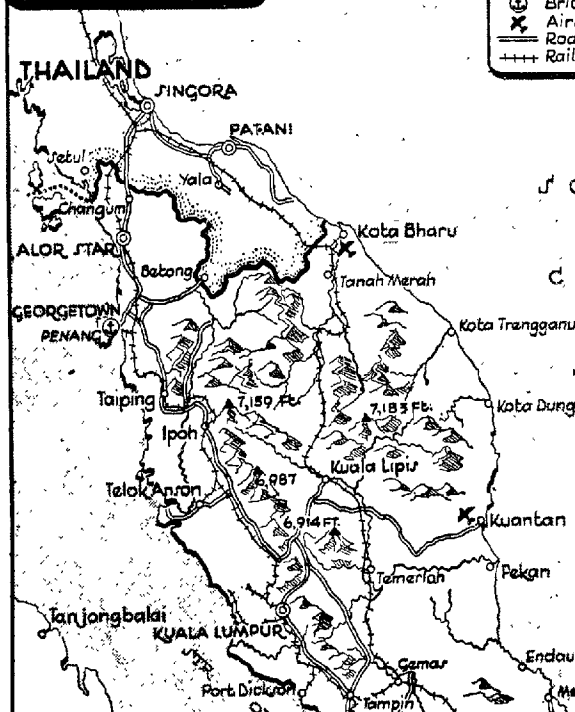

During recent years, Jehovah's Witnesses have been involved in incidents attracting national attention, such as that of a 1940 contest before the United States supreme court of a case of two Pennsylvania children who opposed a requirement that they salute the American flag in school.

BRITISH PREPARE FOR LAST DITCH STAND IN DEFENSE OF SINGAPORE

Anglo-American Fliers Blast Japs

Rangoon, Burma, Jan. 10.—(UP)—American and British fliers, seizing the initiative in a duel for air supremacy over Burma, today had boosted to 15 the total of Japanese fighter planes destroyed in a series of attacks on enemy air bases in western Thailand.

Successful raids have been in progress all week, with the newest attack launched on Friday by both British and American pilots against the Tak base, near the Tahl-Burma frontier. Other bases attacked earlier by the American fliers included Mersod. In addition Allied bombers have twice attacked Bangkok.

While the Americans attacked Tak, R. A. F. planes Friday destroyed several enemy aircraft at the Mersod airbase. The British said all their planes returned safely.

The Japanese were said to have been taken completely by surprise and offered no resistance except to fire their rifles as they stood beside grounded planes. There were no Allied casualties and all planes returned safely.

Exhibit Perfect Teamwork

In their first raid together, the Americans and British were said to have exhibited "perfect teamwork."

British observers here believe Japanese hit-and-run night raids during the past week constitute an enemy attempt to crush Anglo-American air strength and close China's vital back-door supply route through Burma.

The Japanese apparently have decided, the observers said, that Allied air power must be broken before China can be choked in an economic pincer.

To the northeast, Chinese planes are returning to action for the first time in many months attacking Japanese positions in northern Hunan province.

One important development this week was the air assault on Bangkok. Twice in 24 hours time British and American fliers raided docks and a Japanese air-drome in western Thailand.

American pilots said they left seven to nine Japanese planes in flames, strafing the field twice from a height of 20 feet. One American plane was missing, but it was believed the pilot might have reached the Burma frontier before he was forced down.

One of the American pilots, known as "Slim" of Scarsdale, New York, said the raid was "like a football game."

"Two of us blocked out the Japanese while other planes strafed Japanese aircraft on the ground. It wasn't any trouble knocking those boys off," he said.

Silence From Philippines; Expect All-Out Assault

Chinese Victories May Turn Tide Against Japanese Armies

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Britain grimly swore its "absolute determination" to defend Singapore and "other vital areas" today (Sun.) as its troops fought an apparently losing battle for Kuala Lumpur, three rubber center 180 miles north of Singapore.

Gen. Sir Henry R. Pownall, British commander at the British naval base in Malaya, told defenders in a broadcast (tonight that there were days of bitter struggle ahead but that Britain and her allies were not idle.

"We are engaged," he said, upon the task of holding "the enemy from vital areas and as far from them as possible while we renew, regroup and supplement our forces."

The Japanese meanwhile claimed the capture of Kuala Lumpur after the British reportedly abandoned it and Japanese forces came in from the rear. The report was not confirmed by British sources. The British did concede that their front along the Slim river, 220 miles from Singapore, had been broken after the Japanese suddenly began appearing with 12-ton tanks.

Silence From Philippines
There was an ominous silence from the Philippines which some Washington observers calculated was the prelude to a double Japanese attack upon U. S. forces on the island of Luzon and an invasion of the Dutch East Indies.

Japs Plan Full Scale Assault On Americans

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Fragmentary news from the Philippines led some tacticians here tonight to the opinion that the Japanese might be planning an immediate full scale assault upon the Dutch East Indies, simultaneously with an effort to drive General Douglas MacArthur's forces off the island of Luzon.

This view was bolstered, they said, by army reports of an enemy fleet concentration off Mindanao, the southernmost of the large Philippine islands, together with a massing of Japanese reinforcements in the Luzon front.

Price Control Bill Boosts Food Costs

Washington, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The senate late today passed and returned to the house price control legislation embodying farm bloc amendments which administration forces said would result in increases of about 25 per cent in food costs.

The powerful farm group beat down administration resistance to special provisions benefitting agricultural commodities.

MACARTHUR REPELS INITIAL ATTACKS

House Price Bill Flayed By President

Measure Is Called "Farm Relief" By Senate

By UNITED PRESS
WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt confers with his congressional leaders today about congressional refusal to follow his advice on wartime price control legislation.

Administration senate leaders have described the bill passed by the senate late Saturday as "farm relief" legislation rather than price control.

One of the senate bill's provisions—give Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard veto power over any farm price ceilings fixed by Price Administrator Leon Henderson—was approved, over the express opposition of the president, who had asked in a letter to Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky that there be no division of authority.

Wickard, in an interview today, said he still wanted control of prices as well as production of farm products, contending that they should be administered jointly to assure the Allied nations adequate food supplies.

The legislative problem on price control legislation is a knotty one. The senate and house versions differ radically on important provisions. Senate-house conferees are expected to begin work tomorrow or Wednesday in an effort to reach a compromise.

The senate passed its version of the measure late Saturday, 83 to 1, with only Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., dissenting, after the strong farm bloc limited the government's power to regulate the prices of agricultural commodities.

Both senate and house bills are alike in these respects:

1. Both confer price fixing authority on the federal government.

American Reporter Tells of Fighting In Mayala Jungles

By HAROLD GUARD
U. P. Staff Correspondent

SINGAPORE—Strange flashing lights sometimes peep out of the dense jungle growths on the east coast, guiding Japanese planes to British Imperial troop units.

From the jungle, where no Japanese would be expected, snipers fire at the defenders of Mayala.

Imperial troops with whom I spent a night at an east coast outpost have learned much from the surprise tactics of the Japanese. They have developed an alertness against surprise in the future.

"We never were able to tell where they were coming from," one veteran said. "We never knew when we were going to turn around and find Japanese in native dress aiming Tommy-guns at us from the rear."

The troops have been having an unwanted peaceful time in recent days, but are by no means relaxing their vigilance for a single moment. They know by experience the crafty tactics of the Jap.

Some I talked with had opposed the Japanese landing at Kelantan.

Viereck on Stand In Hill Trial

WASHINGTON — George Sylvester Viereck, ace German propagandist, was called as a government witness at the George Hill perjury trial today but confined most of his responses to a reiteration of the sentence "I refuse to answer on the ground that it may tend to incriminate me."

The slightly built German agent, clad in a gray suit with blue shirt and tie, was called after Mrs. Gordon Spielman, a tall blonde, had testified concerning telephone conversations between Viereck and the defendant, a $2,000-a-year secretary of Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y.

Government counsel, who contend that Viereck directed Hill in the mailing of more than 500,000 pieces of isolationist literature under congressional frank, warned Viereck that he had the right to refuse to answer questions on constitutional grounds.

Viereck, now under indictment charged with failure to reveal all of his Axis propaganda activities when he registered with the state department as an agent of the German government, accepted the warning with a smile.

Mrs. Spielman, former clerk in the office of the late Sen. Ernest Lundeen, F-L, Minn., had testified concerning conversations among Hill, Viereck and Lundeen.

William Power Maloney, special prosecutor for the justice department, began his questions by asking:

Commissioners Act To Block Camp

Action to block the conscientious objector's camp, definitely ordered established at the Fresno CC camp last Saturday, was taken today by county commissioners.

The commissioners sent to Congressman J. Harry McGregor a petition bearing the signatures of 39 farmers in the camp vicinity, who state they will not permit conscientious objectors to work on their farms in connection with soil conservation work.

H. D. Abbott of Washington, assistant soil conservation chief, Saturday approved the abandoned CCC camp as a site for the military objectors.

Besides the petition sent to McGregor today, the commissioners this afternoon said that eight or nine other papers are being circulated to oppose the new camp. The county board members claim that farmers near Fresno are bitterly opposed to the conscientious objectors and opposition is growing thruout the rural districts.

In place of the conscientious objectors to take the place of CCC workers on the soil conservation project, the commissioners propose to set up a WPA project for county men to work in conjunction with the soil station. County Relief Director Ross K. Lawrence conferred with the board and said such a project could be arranged.

Mr. Lawrence pointed out that a similar project was operated by the commissioners at the soil station, prior to the establishment of a CCC camp.

The commissioners claimed that D. T. Herman of Columbus, a CCC official, informed them recently that the CCC camp near Fresno was being abandoned because their soil conservation work was completed. They also quoted Mr. Herman as saying that any future work there would be in the nature of contour farming on land in that vicinity.

Temperatures from the Ohio Power sub-station this afternoon showed that any further rise would bring the mercury past the freezing point and start a thaw here for the first time in more than a week.

Russians Strike in Arctic; American Planes Aid in East Indies As Enemy Attacks Islands

By UNITED PRESS

WASHINGTON—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's men today hurled back the initial "tremendous" wave of Japan's all-out attack on their Luzon positions and America's heavy bombers blasted a Japanese battleship—possibly the war's fourth—in slashing air defense of the Dutch East Indies.

Action on a front of thousands of miles sent the crash of bombs, the crescendo of big gun bombardment and the death chatter of machine-guns echoing over vast reaches of the far Pacific.

Developments: American and Filipino lines in Bataan province stood firm against a terrific Japanese assault, repulsing with "heavy enemy losses," the first wave of a grand attack designed to overwhelm their positions.

A full-scale Japanese attack on the Dutch East Indies was launched with enemy landings in Dutch Borneo and the northern Celebes arm despite powerful intervention by the American and Dutch air arms.

A Japanese warship attacked the U. S. naval station at Tutuila in the Samoan islands—a key position on the island chain linking Hawaii and Australia—but inflicted only slight damage.

The Japanese, after five weeks of war today were engaged in three major offensives. These were the reduction of MacArthur's hard fighting forces in the Philippines; the opening phase of an attack on the Dutch islands, and the No. 1 Japanese offensive down the Malayan peninsula toward Singapore.

American planes and American fighting men were in the thick of it and the Dutch reported from Batavia that American warships shortly may be expected to shoot their way into action in defense of the East Indies.

The big news was the second major assault by forces of heavy American bombing planes, presumably flying fortresses and consolidated bombers, upon the major forces which Japan has assembled at the base she has established at Davao, 500 miles south of Manila, on the southern Philippines island of Mindanao.

The American bombers, despite low visibility, attacked a large

Used Tire Price Ceiling Is Set

WASHINGTON.—Widespread profiteering at motorists' expense will be halted by the government's decision to fix prices on retreaded and used tires, price officials said today. The office of price administration said some dealers boosted prices on second-hand and retreaded tires as much as 100 per cent following the OPM order banning sales of new tires and tubes. Some tires which normally sold for $3.95 were said to have cost motorists "overnight"—about $7.

To offset "gouging," Price Administrator Leon Henderson issued an emergency price schedule on "retreadable" tire carcasses and retreads which are used for passenger cars, trucks, buses, agricultural implements, industrial machines, motorcycles and other common vehicles.

The schedule will be effective Monday, Jan. 19.

Henderson said a price ceiling over used tire prices will be imposed by the government "in the very near future."

All tire carcass prices, acceptable for retreading or recapping were sent at $1.50 for passenger cars. Here are the following prices you will pay after 8 a. m. Jan. 19 for having your tires retreaded or recapped, (two grades):

	(A)	(B)
6.00x16	7.50	8.45
6.25x16	8.25	7.10
6.50x16	8.70	7.50
7.00x16	10.25	8.95
3.25x17	6.55	5.55
3.50x17	7.10	6.05

If you need a new retreaded or recapped tire, just add $1.50 to the price given for your size either in Grade A, the most expensive grade or camclab of Grade B, the second most expensive grade.

Great Need for Iron and Steel Scrap to Reduce Car "Graveyards"

OWNERS' AID ASKED

Woman Proposes Abandoned Farms Be Worked by Needy Persons

Immediate need for iron and steel scrap to repair war purposes will reduce automobile "graveyards" in and about Syracuse to a minimum, under orders from the Bureau of Industrial Conservation of the War Production Board. The nation's scrapheaps contain from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 junked cars which must be turned into useful channels, according to J. Rosenwald, the bureau's director, has informed the owners. Syracuse has its share.

Field agents are to be sent out to request these "graveyard" proprietors to sell their dilapidated vehicles to scrap dealers. In the event of non-compliance, the Government, in 24 hours, can requisition the wrecks and call for lump sum bids on all the cars, the owners are being told.

Those who volunteer to strip their collections of all saleable parts and dispose of the scrap steel and iron to the highest bidder will be given a month, or possibly two, in which to complete the job. The others, the bureau states, may lose their cars with all the saleable trimmings still on them.

In a communication to The Herald-Journal, a Syracuse woman signing herself as "A Farmer at Heart" offers a suggestion for iron salvage.

"There is a great need for iron," she writes. "Why not take down the old iron bridges throughout the country? There are many, doing no earthly good."

She also suggests the turning over of abandoned farms to "give the poor people a chance to work them and build them up without paying a heavy rent," and she adds: "There is so much going to waste it makes one envious when you ride through the country."

Whether or not the turning out of the steel program will be one of the duties of the new Conservation committee of the Council of Defense is not yet known here. Samuel R. Sisson, chairman of the committee, by General Chairman Alex N. Muench of the council on Saturday, will spend tomorrow in Albany, conferring with State defense and conservation officials on the duties of his group. Members of his committee are to be named this week.

The salvaging of waste materials needed by the Government is the purpose of the committee, but this is believed to have more to do with household and store accumulations of essentials, such as metal containers, tin foil, toothpaste and shaving soap tubes, cardboard boxes, paper rags, and similar odds and ends, than bulk steel and iron.

However, the Sisson committee may be called upon to furnish the impetus that will clean out the junk yards of much needed metal.

Washington announces that the salvage of paper is most essential, and has urged the cooperation of manufacturers, distributors and the public in conserving its use and saving its scrap.

Western Union Offices to Sell Defense Stamps

To make it easier for the public to purchase defense savings stamps, 5,000 Western Union telegraph offices will place them on sale this week, the Treasury Department announced today.

A. N. Williams, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, told Secretary Morgenthau that in making stamps available in all its offices, the company desired "to encourage the widest possible participation in our nation's war effort." Mr. Williams also announced that Western Union has made available a voluntary payroll savings plan to enable its 30,000 employees to purchase defense savings bonds.

In a telegram acknowledging these undertakings, Secretary Morgenthau said the additional outlets for stamp sales "will be a major contribution to the defense savings effort."

Nazis Must Feed Finns To Keep Ally

New Bribe Is Reported Keeping Helsinki in Line

By PAUL GHALI
Special Radio
Copyright, 1942, by the Chicago Daily News, Inc.

Bern, Jan. 26.—Torn between German pressure and her people's longing for peace, Finland today gives definite signs that Hitler's trump cards—food and military assistance—are keeping the upper hand.

A dispatch from Helsinki announced that Finnish Minister of Supplies, Ramsay, has returned home after a visit to Berlin, where he contacted Reich Minister of Agriculture Walther Darré. Ramsay's declarations to the Finnish press yesterday indicated that the results of the Berlin conversations were "satisfactory."

That Finland's grain supplies were "assured" until the next crop. No figures on the amount of grain promised by Germany have been disclosed.

According to figures contained in a Stockholm dispatch to the Bern newspaper Bund, Finland needs 200,000 tons of grain to keep up her current rations. Germany previously promised 15,000 tons but, confronted by her ally's unwavering insistence, she has now presumably decided to raise that quota.

An article by a Swiss professor at Helsinki University, Jean Louis Perret, published in today's Tribune de Geneve, reveals that "German generosity" has further allowed 2,000,000 kilograms of butter to the Finns in order to raise the February ration to 300 grams monthly. Fat rations in December had dropped to 150 grams monthly, which is about half of the severely curtailed French ration.

Not speaking of military assistance, the above examples from neutral sources depict how the Germans "blackmail" the Finns for continued participation in the common war against the Soviets.

To what extent German help will keep Finland at war depends mainly on two conditions:

(1) How long the Finnish troops will be able to keep up their resistance on the front. The highly qualified Finnish skiers are at their best now, as in the winter of 1940. Nevertheless, the latest February ration has mentioned no changes in the Ladoga-Karelian fronts.

The Finnish Army is undergoing the hardest test in its history. According to Bern observers, 16 per cent out of the 4,000,000 population of Finland have been killed or wounded.

(2) How much food Germany will be able to put at the disposal of the Finnish government. A sidelight on this question is thrown by the Munchener Neueste Nachrichten (Munich). Speaking of the potato shortage in German cities,

School Shake-up Seen As Registration Drops

Drastic shifting of teachers and pupils in the high schools, to meet an expected major slump in registration for the January-June term that commenced today, was indicated today by Dr. G. Carl Alverson, superintendent of schools.

Dr. Alverson said there is no question but that the registration will be down considerably, as several hundred pupils have left school to take jobs in private industry.

During the September-January term just ended, some 617 students quit school to take jobs. The greatest leave-taking occurred in October, when 192 obtained working permits.

This number does not include those who obtained permits for part-time jobs so that they could work and continue their studies at the same time.

Dr. Alverson said it will be several days before the total registration figures are reported, and once these figures are available the work of shifting teachers and pupils will be started.

Dr. Alverson expects to meet with his staff of supervisors, directors and principals this week to discuss defense work, including evacuation of pupils in the event of an emergency.

Bernard O. Larsen, principal of Apprentice Training School, returned to his duties today after undergoing tonsil operation last week.

Canadian Farmers Demand Increase Of Produce Prices

Regina, Sask., Jan. 26 (AP).—A delegation of some 400 Saskatchewan farmers with a wheat pool petition signed by nearly 200,000 persons demanding higher prices for farm produce leaves next Friday on two special trains for Ottawa where they will meet Agricultural Minister Gardiner in a conference Feb. 2.

R. H. Millikin of Regina, wheat pool counsel, will go East in advance of the main party to complete arrangements. President J. H. Wesson and Secretary George W. Robertson, of the wheat pool, are already in Ottawa to attend the Canadian Federation of Agriculture convention opening there today. They will remain in the capital to head the delegation placing the petition before the Government.

One major point in the petition is a demand for an initial payment of not less than $1 a bushel on wheat delivered to the Canadian wheat board compared with the 70 cents, Basis No. 1 Northern at the Lakehead and Vancouver, paid on the 1941 crop.

The petition also requests the government to accept the principle of "parity prices" for all agricultural products.

Woman Saved After Threatening Leap From 18th Floor

New York, Jan. 26 (AP).—For 55 minutes today Mary Kovach, a 37-year-old cleaning woman, stood on the ledge of the 18th floor of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company waving to the crowd below and threatening to jump. Then, as she stepped back momentarily into the building, two men rushed to her aid.

Herbert Juch, building superintendent who discovered the woman had not checked out of the building on schedule, said she ignored his pleas to leave the sill, shouting: "I'm poisoned." While she stood on the ledge, she tossed down a paper napkin on which was written: "I want help." She was taken to a hospital.

Milk Hearing Will Resume In February

Postponement Urged in Behalf of Proposed Added Areas

New York, Jan. 26 (AP).—Arguments on the proposed enlargement of the metropolitan milk marketing area, one of 85 proposed amendments to the Federal-State milk marketing orders, probably will be resumed about the middle of February.

Opponents of the enlargement—principally representatives of dealers and producers from Pennsylvania, where 16 counties would be included in the enlargement, and New Jersey, where nine counties would be included—had urged postponement of this issue on the ground that insufficient notice of the hearing had been given.

E. O. Mather, of the Bureau of Dairy Economics, Department of Agriculture, who moved for the postponement of this phase of the public hearing, said that his motion had not been influenced by these claims.

Glen J. Clifford, presiding officer appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture for the hearings, said that although the extra session regarding enlargement will actually be a resumption of discussion rather than a reopening of formal notices will be distributed to interested parties as soon as a definite date is taken up.

Also to be taken up at the postponed session, he said, will be Amendment No. 2 dealing with level production; an amendment proposed by Dr. Leland Spencer, professor of marketing at Cornell University, which would rezone and producers payments; an amendment defining "new producers," and an amendment offered by the Dairyman's League concerning service to city dealers.

Mather explained that he moved for the postponement "because the dairy bureau feels it is most important to place before the Secretary of Agriculture testimony and evidence concerning the proposed increase in the price of fluid milk."

Testimony regarding the proposed increase of from 1 1/2 to 2 cents was taken when the hearings opened here early this month and later at Ulica and Binghamton.

Mather said it is "evident that both the advocates and opponents of Amendment No. 1 (enlargement of the marketing area) as well as the department of Agriculture can study its provisions."

Mrs. Morgenthau 'Pinch-Hitter' in Bond Sale Talks

Detroit, Jan. 26 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau has found his wife an invaluable pinch-hitter on tours to spur sales of defense bonds and honor sales drive leaders.

The secretary made two of his engagements here yesterday, but when a slight indisposition developed and kept him to his hotel room he called upon his wife for help.

It appeared she did a good job, smiling and waving, she climbed atop a tank to make her husband's speech to workers in the Chrysler tank arsenal. She lauded the Sunday shift for "producing the things that are going to crush Hitler and the Japs."

Earlier Secretary Morgenthau participated in the award of a defense bond flag—blue banner with 13 white stripes and figure of a minute man—to the Great Lakes Steel Corporation. His wife presented a similar banner to the tank arsenal. The two employee groups were honored as the first in the nation in which more than 90 per cent have agreed to pay-roll deductions to buy bonds.

Rutherford's Body Unburied 3 Weeks After His Death

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 26 (AP).—The body of Judge Joseph Franklin Rutherford lay in a mortuary today, nearly three weeks after his death, while Jehovah's Witnesses made a last plea for permission to bury their leader in accordance with his dying wish.

Rutherford, 72, died Jan. 8, asking a simple burial at dawn the following day in an orange grove at Beth Sarim, the estate he kept ready for the resurrection of Biblical prophets.

Frustrated by county health authorities and the planning commission, who held that the estate was not a legally zoned cemetery, the international religious organization carried its fight to the Board of County Supervisors.

Witnesses charged that prejudice had caused authorities to refuse to waive the zoning law.

June in January Storm Hits N. Y. City

New York, Jan. 26 (AP).—That "shooting" early today, which caused some frightened citizens to believe the police was a June-in-January thunderstorm that hit the city along with lightning and a light snowfall.

The freak storm, the Weather Bureau explained, was caused by a mass of cold air coming into conflict with warm air.

Miniature snowballs fell during the storm, tiny pellets which became moist as they descended, twirled and gathered weight.

Prospectors Get Shovel Priorities

Denver, Jan. 26 (INS).—The bearded prospector of the West is an important figure in the Nation's war effort and he's going to get his priorities right along with big defense industries, Dr. Wilbur A. Nelson of Washington, D. C., director of mine priorities, said today.

Under the plan announced, any prospector who desires may apply for a serial number which will be granted priorities on shovels, picks and other materials he requires in this work, Dr. Nelson said.

Red Cross Invades Business Area in $170,000 Campaign

Booths Set Up in Stores, Banks, Public Buildings Downtown

Collection booths were set up in 17 downtown stores, banks and public buildings this morning as Syracuse and Onondaga County Chapter of American Red Cross entered the second and final week of its war relief drive.

As subscription teams brought the canvass into the downtown area, a Red Cross truck equipped with a loud speaker system and manned by members of the Red Cross Motor Corps patrolled in the business section.

Each downtown booth was under supervision of a Red Cross captain, with a staff of trained volunteers assisting. They will continue open from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. through Friday.

No tabulations have been made since Saturday night, when the campaign total to date was reported as $27,000. A large group in the Loew Building.

Russians Are Getting First U. S. Supplies

Roosevelt's Speeches Are Dropped as Booklets on Nazi Lines

Moscow, Jan. 26.—American war materials promised to Russia during the three-power conference here are at last beginning to arrive in the Soviet Union in quantities that count. Deliveries were slow in starting but have reached sizeable volume in the last couple of weeks. However, most of the stuff now being delivered was shipped from the United States prior to the beginning of the Pacific war.

It is naturally expected that the Pacific conflict will temporarily affect the flow of American munitions to the Soviet Union.

certain categories required for the American war effort. Nevertheless, the Russians have been given time to understand that despite modified delivery schedules, the United States has no intention of reducing the total amounts pledged to Russia over the long run. If anything, the quantities will be augmented when American production and shipping capacity ultimately make that feasible, it is understood.

So far American and British material has not reached sufficient volume seriously to influence the course of the war in Russia. But it is a growing factor and by spring or summer should be making itself felt in an important way.

The United States is providing moral as well as material ammunition for the Russian against Hitler. Unabridged German translations of President Roosevelt's speech to Congress have been dropped by thousands over the German lines by Russian airplanes. The President's forecasts of the American airplane, tank and gun output during the coming two years appear in extra black type in these booklets, copies of which I have seen.

Another kind of leaflet, which the Russians have showered over German positions, tells of the 26-power Washington agreement and points out the futility of continued Nazi resistance against the opposition of the whole democratic world.

Most of this airborne propaganda, of which there is an infinite variety, bears the following postscript in German:

"German Soldier: When you surrender say the words, 'Long live Moscow, down with Hitler!' The Russian Command guarantees you your life, warm quarters, good food and the possibility of exchanging letters with your family."

All Enemy Aliens Must Register From Feb. 9 to 28

Will Get Certificates of Identification From U. S.

All German, Italian and Japanese aliens residing in the Syracuse area must apply for certificates of identification at the Federal Building between Feb. 9 and 28. Postmaster Cornelius J. Nugent announced today.

Mr. Nugent also announced the task of registering the so-called enemy aliens will be handled by Vincent J. Killian, foreman of the registry section, who had charge of the compulsory alien registration here in 1940.

In a warning to aliens who must register, Mr. Nugent said: "Enemy aliens are asked to meet all government regulations and requirements, otherwise they will face prosecution."

Mr. Killian said that of the 12-180 aliens residing in Onondaga County, approximately 3,000 are enemy aliens and will have to be re-registered.

The registrations will be filed with Arthur Cornelius, Jr., special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in charge of the Albany-up-State New York district. Unlike the 1940 registration, enemy aliens must furnish three photographs of themselves, one to be attached to each form, the photographs to bear their signatures. The forms also are to be signed by the enemy aliens. (This for those 11 years of age or pictures must have been made over.)

within 30 days of the time they register. An enemy alien must also produce the registration card given him when he registered in 1940, and in event the card is lost, must apply to Washington for a new one.

The registration of enemy aliens is a part of the war effort. It is a part of the war effort. It is a part of the war effort.

Farm Bureau Asks Action Of Roosevelt

110 Per Cent of Parity in Price Control Urged in Appeal

Holding they are against inflation but that farmers must receive fair prices to compete with industry for labor, the executive committee of the Onondaga County Farm Bureau has appealed directly to President Roosevelt that the ceiling prices on farm products be fixed at no less than 110 per cent of parity.

The executive committee of the bureau took this action and is hopeful it will have some effect on the price control bill now pending in Congress.

Copies of the telegram, signed by Harold Loveless, secretary, were sent to United States Senators James M. Mead and Robert F. Wagner and Congressman

The telegram read: "Onondaga County Farm Bureau executive committee, by unanimous action, urged that the Secretary of Agriculture have prior approval of ceiling prices on farm products and that ceilings be fixed at not less than 110 per cent of parity."

"We do not want inflation, do not favor changing the established basic parity formula, but do insist upon that stated above."

"We wish to point out that farmers are only getting back to where we belong and it will take a considerable period of good prices to bring back losses of depression years."

"We also wish to point out that those dealing with price ceilings on farm products must understand that production costs of farmers are rising materially. Farmers must receive fair prices to compete with industry for labor."

Discussing the bill, committee members said that if ceilings be placed at parity it would not be attained due to the seasonal fluctuation in farm prices.

When prices are below parity for a portion of the year they must be allowed to go above parity if a parity average is to be attained, they hold.

To date there has been no inflation in farm prices, they said, and stated the farmer is just beginning to get back where he belongs and that it will take a considerable period of good prices to build back the farm losses of the depression years.
